CALL TO NEW ERA OF WORLD PEACE SOUNDED

5-POWER NAVAL CONFERENCE IS FORMALLY OPENED

NAVAL REDUCTION IS KEYNOTE OF KING GEORGE V ADDRESS

WARM GREETING, HEARTFELT WISHES EXPRESSED FOR SUCCESS OF PARLEY

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Jan. 21.—The call to a new era of world peace and naval reduction was sounded today by King George V., Britain's "sailor monarch" to the leading naval powers of the world.

The five-power naval conference of 1930 was formally opened by the king in the royal gallery of the house of lords with an address to the plenipotentiaries of England and her empire, France, the United States, Japan and Italy, in which he extended a warm greeting and heartfelt wishes for the success of their efforts.

The leading delegate of each nation responded with an address pledging a sincere effort to co-operate in the move for world peace. The speakers sounded the keynote of a desire not only to limit naval armaments, but to reduce them, and Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, of the United States, emphasized the feeling that "we do not look upon this effort towards disarmament as final."

In addition to the five great powers, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Irish Free State, India and South Africa were represented as integral parts of the British empire.

The king, standing by his golden throne facing the head of the horseshoe table at which the delegates were seated, spoke into a gold and silver microphone for his words to be broadcast to the whole world.

It was his first public speech since the illness last November that almost cost his life. His plea has dramatic force from the fact that he made the British navy his career and commanded ships before he was called to the throne. It was King George who, when Duke of York in 1901, sounded the call, "Wake up, England," after a tour of the world in which he studied the empire's naval needs. It had a great effect on the naval development of the world's greatest maritime power.

The king spoke only six minutes, in an earnest and friendly tone. His words came slowly, emphatically and distinctly. The slight bearded figure of the monarch, standing in formal morning dress by his throne, a little above the level of the delegates and flanked around by pictures of his ancestors, seemed slightly eerie in the strange, greenish glow of the powerful photographers' lights.

His majesty referred feelingly to the world war, expressing the hope that "nothing would be left undone to prevent another grim disaster."

He felt certain, the king said, the next desire that the conference would result in the immediate alleviation of the heavy burdens of armaments now weighing on the peoples of the world.

He felt certain, he king said, the delegates were not animated by selfish nationalistic motives, and all would sacrifice some of their special needs for the common good.

The king referred to the great success of the Washington arms conference and voiced his belief that the present conference would hasten the time when the League of Nations could proceed toward even greater measures of disarmament than are contemplated at this conference.

Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald of Britain was the first to respond to the king's speech. He uttered the solemn warning that an agreement is demanded "to halt the competition which recently has begun to show itself in types and numbers of ships. If we are not careful we shall once more be involved in feverish competition such as heralded the outbreak of the war in 1914."

The world expects the conference to eliminate the margin between the real needs, for security, of the five leading naval powers, and their actual or projected naval strength, Premier MacDonald said.

Secondly, he suggested, "naval, land and air forces must be discussed."

"Third," he continued, "it is necessary that the five powers appreciate and understand the different needs imposed on them by their geographical position and 'points of attack' in the event of war."

"If we can limit and reduce by agreement one of our most powerful arms," he concluded, "without diminishing our national security but indeed strengthening it by our very act, then the London conference undoubtedly will take its place among the great landmarks which tell the stages and events by which mankind has advanced in wisdom and enlightenment."

After his speech, MacDonald was elected chairman of the conference.

The setting for the first plenary session of this conference which may prove a milestone in the progress of world's peace was one of dignified simplicity and historic association.

There was no lack of reminders of the horrors of war. Two great canvases, fifty feet long, looked on from the walls. One depicted the death of Nelson at Trafalgar, surrounded by

GLASS HOUSE IS BEING BUILT IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—A glass house soon will rise at 11th street and Second avenue if the residents of that vicinity can be persuaded to be neighborly and refrain from throwing stones.

Frank Lloyd Wright, whose fame as an architect rests on so popular an innovation as the American bungalow, has announced plans for an 18-story apartment building that will be just one big window pane after another. There will be barely enough concrete in the structure to hold the heavy plate glass walls together.

The special glass that will be used is said to admit the ultraviolet rays of the sun, so a housewife will be able to get a good tan while pushing the vacuum cleaner. Wright also points out that the glass buildings will allow more sunlight to filter into streets.

4 AIR VETERANS SEEK KNOWLEDGE OF DISASTER

DETERMINING WHAT QUIRK OF FATE CAUSED T. A. T. TO SPIN INTO CRASH

HOLD OPEN HEARING TO WEIGH STORIES OF EYE-WITNESSES AT GLENDALE, CALIF.

Glendale, Calif., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Four veterans of the air lanes pooled their knowledge today to determine if possible what quirk of fate sent the giant T. A. T.-Maddux tri-motored plane spinning into a crash Sunday at sunset with a loss of 16 lives.

The four, all former army pilots and now officials of the air line, went into an open hearing to weigh the stories of eye-witnesses of the worst airplane tragedy in the nation and hear all evidence offered.

They visited the scene of the catastrophe, a narrow strip of land between a highway and the Pacific ocean, on the air route between Agua Caliente, Mexico, and Los Angeles.

Already they were inclined to believe that a sudden squall coming in from the sea, was the cause of the tragedy, but they wanted to hear the versions of eye-witnesses.

Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, vice-president of the T. A. T.-Maddux line, in charge of operations; F. H. Whitney and Eddie Blandie, two of the company's oldest pilots, and S. D. Welch, advisor on operations, made up the board.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and Tomlinson, together with other technical advisors, conferred with the officers and the board of directors of the airline last night.

FOUND GUILTY OF SECOND DEGREE MURDER CHARGE

Superior, Wis., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Ben Meyers, former policeman who was charged with killing his immediate superior officer, Sergeant Arthur Zimmerman, on Dec. 2, was found guilty of second degree murder today by a Superior court jury.

Judge Archibald McKay said he would delay sentence until Wednesday or Thursday so that Defense Attorney Claude Cooper could file an appeal for a new trial.

When the foreman announced the decision, Meyers twisted in his chair only slightly. He showed no other emotion. His wife was in court but was unmoved by the verdict.

The jury had deliberated slightly more than eight hours. Second degree murder in Wisconsin carries a prison sentence of from 14 to 25 years.

Meyers, according to testimony at his trial, shot his superior officer when Zimmerman threatened to report him for an alleged violation of the prohibition laws.

The defense attorneys offered witnesses to support their contention that Meyers was insane when he shot Zimmerman.

The officer, John C. Mathieson, is ill and the couple is short of food, police said.

Wets and Drys in Congress Work on Congress to Advance Respective Causes in the Session

STIMULATED BY WEEKS OF RAPID FIRE DEBATING

2 COMMITTEES DOMINATED BY DRYS TAKE UP LAW ENFORCEMENT RECOMMENDATIONS

WET BLOC PLANS MOST SYSTEMATIC ANTI-PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN IT EVER CONDUCTED

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 21.—Stimulated by several weeks of rapid-fire prohibition debate, wets and drys in congress went to work today on the program by which they hope to advance their respective causes during the present session.

Two committees dominated by drys, one in the house and one in the senate, settled down to writing part of President Hoover's law enforcement recommendations into law. Meanwhile the wet bloc in the house contemplated the most systematic anti-prohibition campaign it ever has conducted.

A house judiciary sub-committee, under the leadership of Rep. Christopherson, republican, North Dakota, a dry, summoned Chairman George Wickersham, Dean Roscoe Pound and former Senator William Kenyon, of the law enforcement commission, to discuss the pending bill to increase the powers of United States commissioners to try petty law violators.

A similar committee in the senate, with Senator King, democrat, Utah, also a dry, as its chairman, held its first meeting to organize for consideration of a bill to transfer the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department.

Both of these bills were requested by the president and his commission on law enforcement. The two committees planned to do their work in closed session.

The house wet bloc decided at a meeting late yesterday to hold unofficial public hearings of its own on the entire prohibition question unless one of the regularly constituted committees of congress throws its doors open for a satisfactory airing of the present status of Volstead law enforcement.

The senate continued work today on the tariff bill. The house took up four bills which have received approval of the rules committee and are expected to pass without difficulty.

REASONS THAT IRISH MUST STICK TOGETHER

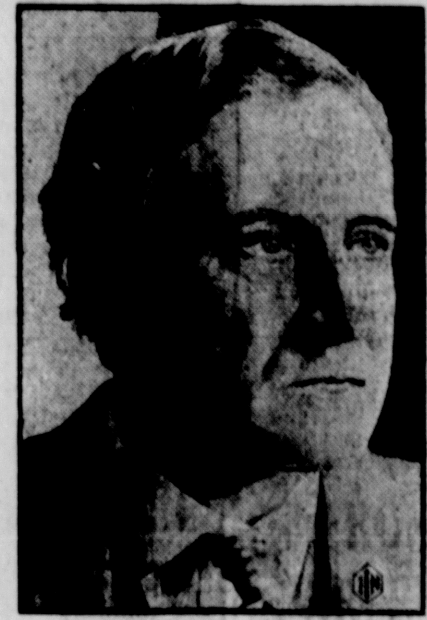

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The Irish must stick together, Bernard Fitzgerald reasoned, so when he saw that many of his compatriots on the police force weren't being paid on account of the city being broke he did something about it.

Fitzgerald was making too merry in a southside theater and was ejected by Patrolman Tim Dwyer, as Irish a policeman as ever swung a night-stick.

When Dwyer told him to go home and be quiet, Fitzgerald answered: "It's your duty to arrest me. I got money and you haven't because the city hasn't paid you. I ought to pay a fine to help you out."

So Dwyer took his compatriot to the station and Fitzgerald paid a $5 fine with a grin.

YOUNG RADIO ENGINEER FILLS THE EMERGENCY

GRASPS WIRES WITH HANDS TO RESTORE CIRCUIT IN BROADCASTING

HELD ON AS CURRENT TWITCHED THROUGH HIM, GETTING ENTIRE KING'S SPEECH

New York, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The hands of a young radio engineer, twitching with the shocks of a high voltage electric current, were literally "hands across the sea" today.

Through them passed the current which enabled listeners-in on 59 radio stations to hear the international program which linked Great Britain, Canada and the United States at the opening of the naval conference in London.

Just a few minutes before King George began the address which formally inaugurated the conference, a member of the control room staff of the Columbia Broadcasting Company tripped over the wires to the generator that energizes the entire network.

Harold Vivian, chief control operator, grasped the wires together in his hands to restore the circuit. Leakage of current through his body to the floor shook his arms with spasms, but he held on without a break for 20 minutes until new wires could be connected.

ANTHONY WIGGIN, ST. PAUL BUSINESS AGENT, SHOOTS SELF

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Anthony Wiggins, 48, business agent of the Meat Cutters' union, shot himself today shortly after he arrived at his offices in the Labor Temple.

Wiggins was said to have been dependent over long periods of ill health he suffered. Coroner C. A. Ingerson issued a verdict of suicide.

AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION TO AID FARMERS

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS IS GIVEN MUCH COMMENDATION

PRESIDENT A. J. OLSON ADDRESSES STATE FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Agricultural legislation enacted by the special session of congress promises to open a new era of prosperity for the American farmer, A. J. Olson, state president, told the annual convention of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation today.

Olson said the average farmer at the present time is in a worse financial condition than he was a year ago but that the industry should reach a higher economic plane with the help of the federal marketing act and the farm board.

"Farmers have made many accomplishments in the past year," Olson said. "These accomplishments are but plans, but it is not too much to say that our progress has been phenomenal. No nation-wide movement has advanced so rapidly as has the farm bureau as an example of movement for agricultural equality."

The state president pointed out to the growth of agricultural organizations. He said that although the federation has been in existence only 11 years, it has become a powerful influence in United States economics.

Passage of the National Marketing Act, Olson said, relieved the farmer of much tariff inequality with industry. The marketing act created the Federal Farm Board and mapped out a policy for agriculture, he pointed out.

Olson said the farm bureau constantly has stressed the need of co-operation in agriculture and that the government recognized its program in passing the marketing act.

Olson stressed the need of tariff revision as a means to give agriculture the same benefits enjoyed by industry and commerce.

LEGAL QUARRELS OF RHINELANDER IN ANOTHER CHAPTER

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The legal quarrels of Leonard Kip Rhinelander went into another chapter today before Supreme Court Justice Morschauser, who several years ago presided at the annulment trial that ended with victory of the dusky bride over her aristocratic husband.

Justice Morschauser signed an order for the publication of the summons and complaint in Alice Jones Rhinelander's suit for separation. He also directed that Rhinelander's large realty holdings be sequestrated and appointed a receiver of the property.

Coal Gas From Heater Causes Death of Woman

Owatonna, Minn., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Coal gas escaping from a heating stove today was believed responsible for the death of Mrs. George Deviney, 26, in her home.

Visitors to the Deviney home Monday afternoon found the wife and mother dead. Her husband was rescued but was reported in a serious condition in a hospital today.

AMERICAN FARMER HAS MORE REASON FOR OPTIMISM TODAY

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—American farmers today have more reason for optimism than any time since the war, Clifton V. Gregory, Chicago, editor of the Prairie Farmer, told farmers who had gathered at the university farm last night to honor ten men who had been chosen to that rank.

Gregory said that the "hard-luck story" of American agriculture which had been told to have other professions and industries sympathize with the farmers had had a reaction on the farmers. He said the story had been over-told and the farmers themselves and their children now believed there was no future in the industry.

The farmers honored included: J. T. Holmes, Northfield; Harry A. Hilsley, Faribault, and Ferdinand H. Ross, Fisher.

REPARATIONS FRONT NOW SHIFTS FROM THE HAGUE PARLEY

SCENE TRANSFERRED TO THE PARLIAMENTS OF 15 NATIONS, 3 DOMINIONS

DELEGATES YESTERDAY SIGNED THE REVISED YOUNG PLAN PROTOCOL

The Hague, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The reparations front shifted today from The Hague to the parliaments of 15 nations and three dominions whose delegates yesterday signed the revised Young plan protocol.

As soon as those governments ratify the agreement, perhaps even before, troops will be on the move again, with the last of French forces evacuating the Rhineland. Those soldiers will never go back so long as Germany does not willfully default in reparations payments.

The Hague conference, which began Jan. 3 and ended yesterday, was intended to put a final end to reparations squabbles. It succeeded in principle, but must be followed by a smaller conference at Paris in which details are arranged for the handling of Balkan property claims.

The United States did not sign the Young plan protocol, having made its own settlement with Germany.

THREATENED TO BURN MONEY IF LEFT BEQUEST BY FATHER

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Seven years ago when August Mueller and his father quarreled, August said: "If you leave me any money when you die I'll burn it."

His will was probated today. He left August $1.

"I make this bequest," the will said, "so that you may do with the money what you said you would."

BREAKS WERE AGAINST WM. SANDS OF ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The breaks were just against William Sands.

While driving his car Sunday, admittedly under the influence of beverages of high potentiality, he got in the way of a police car. He was jailed for driving while drunk. Today he was sentenced to 10 days in the work-house.

HUCKINS TO GO ON TRIAL FEBRUARY 3

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—George E. Huckins will go to trial Feb. 3 on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, it was decided today.

Huckins, youngest member of an investment partnership in which thousands of dollars were invested by residents of a dozen states, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today.

LADY MARY HEATH, ENGLISH AVIATRIX, FILES FOR DIVORCE

Reno, Nev., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Lady Mary Heath, English aviatrix, had on file today a suit for divorce from Sir James Heath.

The divorce complaint charged that Sir James was "penurious" and threatened to disclaim parentage of any children that might be born to him, stating that the cost of raising children was too high.

English courts recently sustained Sir James in his refusal to pay certain bills contracted by Lady Heath.

WAS BREWED IN FAR REACHES OF THE NORTHWEST

TEMPERATURES SENT TO LOW MARK AS THE STORM WHIRLS DOWN

22 INCHES SNOW BLANKETS THE GROUND IN SOME PORTIONS OF NORTHWEST

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—A blizzard brewed in the far reaches of the northwest swept over the Rocky Mountains today toward the central states as they were recovering from last week's onslaught of winter.

Temperatures were sent to zero and lower in the transcontinental divide territory when the storm whirled down from Montana and Idaho, leaving at its source mercury readings that were near the bottom of the thermometer tubes.

Weather forecasters expected the blizzard to waste itself in the middle west and touch the Great Lakes region lightly if at all. In the central forecast area relatively balmy temperatures were offset by a heavy wet snow.

Temperatures in the lower Great Lakes territory did not rise, however, until great ice jams were formed in the flooded valley of the Wabasha, which went over its banks last week and drove hundreds from their low-land homes.

Army engineers today set fuses and caps to a string of bombs preparatory to attempting to dislodge a gigantic gorge at Riverton and Hyatts Ferry, Ind., where the jam has backed the swollen Wabasha to flood height again.

The river had risen more than a foot today and sent the icy waters lapping again at the tops of levees which crumbled but held last week.

Near Vincennes, which escaped a disastrous flood by inches last week, rescue boats again pushed out today into the inland lakes of back water to reach 75 families still marooned and believed short of firewood and food.

Weather bureaus reported no immediate relief from the cold wave in the northwest. Twenty-two inches of snow blanketed the ground and there was prospect of more.

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—After establishing the second coldest temperatures record of the winter today, the cold wave moderated slightly.

At 8 A. M. the official reading was 19 degrees below zero. This reading was surpassed only by the record cold of 25 below made last week. At 11 A. M., however, the mercury had risen to 14 below.

LABOR GOVERNMENT TWICE DEFEATED HOUSE OF LORDS

London, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The labor government was defeated twice in the house of lords today on motions concerning the unemployment insurance bill.

The second defeat was by a vote of 94 to 14. The lords approved the motion of Lord Banbury to omit clause four of the unemployment insurance bill.

Earlier in the day, the lords had approved a motion of the Marquis of Salisbury for postponement of consideration of the first 19 clauses of the bill until after consideration of the 20th or last clause. The vote was 107 to 18, but the defeat was not considered likely to result in a cabinet crisis.

Engineer Succumbs to Wounds Received When Engine Exploded

Red Wing, Minn., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The body of Harry Podas, 45, engineer of a railroad locomotive that exploded near here Jan. 9, was sent to the Twin Cities for burial today.

Podas died in St. John's hospital last night from injuries received in the blast. He is survived by the widow and six children and had been employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway for 20 years.

Two other trainmen, Harry Donaldson, fireman, and William Farmer, brakeman, are recovering from injuries suffered in the explosion, which was partially due to sub-zero weather.

Minnesota Motor Express Co. Permit Suspended

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today suspended the permit of the Minnesota Motor Express company to operate between the Twin Cities and Moorhead.

The commission instructed the concern to pay claims totaling more than $400 of shippers who charged the company had failed to pay that sum in C. O. D. deliveries.

Hearing in Jan. 15 was said to have shown that the concern had not operated over the route since Dec. 20.

Harold Vivian, chief control operator, grasped the wires together in his hands to restore the circuit. Leakage of current through his body to the floor shook his arms with spasms, but he held on without a break for 20 minutes until new wires could be connected.

ANTHONY WIGGIN, ST. PAUL BUSINESS AGENT, SHOOTS SELF

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Anthony Wiggins, 48, business agent of the Meat Cutters' union, shot himself today shortly after he arrived at his offices in the Labor Temple.

Wiggins was said to have been depressed over long periods of ill health he suffered. Coroner C. A. Ingerson issued a verdict of suicide.

AGRICULTURAL LEGISLATION TO AID FARMERS

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS IS GIVEN MUCH COMMENTATION

PRESIDENT A. J. OLSON ADDRESSES STATE FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Agricultural legislation enacted by the special session of congress promises to open a new era of prosperity for the American farmer, A. J. Olson, state president, told the annual convention of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation today.

Olson said the average farmer at the present time is in a worse financial condition than he was a year ago but that the industry should reach a higher economic plane with the help of the federal marketing act and the farm board.

"Farmers have made many accomplishments in the past year," Olson said. "These accomplishments are but plans, but it is not too much to say that our progress has been phenomenal. No nation-wide movement has advanced so rapidly as has the farm bureau as an example of movement for agricultural equality."

The state president pointed out to the growth of agricultural organizations. He said that although the federation has been in existence only 11 years, it has become a powerful influence in United States economics.

Passage of the National Marketing Act, Olson said, relieved the farmer of much tariff inequality with industry. The marketing act created the Federal Farm Board and mapped out a policy for agriculture, he pointed out.

Olson said the farm bureau constantly has stressed the need of co-operation in agriculture and that the government recognized its program in passing the marketing act.

Olson stressed the need of tariff revision as a means to give agriculture the same benefits enjoyed by industry and commerce.

LEGAL QUARRELS OF RHINELANDER IN ANOTHER CHAPTER

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The legal quarrels of Leonard Kip Rhinelander went into another chapter today before Supreme Court Justice Morschauer, who several years ago presided at the annulment trial that ended with victory of the dusky bride over her aristocratic husband.

Justice Morschauer signed an order for the publication of the summons and complaint in Alice Jones Rhinelander's suit for separation. He also directed that Rhinelander's large realty holdings be sequestered and appointed a receiver of the property.

Coal Gas From Heater Causes Death of Woman

Owatonna, Minn., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Coal gas escaping from a heating stove today was believed responsible for the death of Mrs. George Deviney, 26, in her home.

Visitors to the Deviney home Monday afternoon found the wife and mother dead. Her husband was rescued but was reported in a serious condition in a hospital today.

AMERICAN FARMER HAS MORE REASON FOR OPTIMISM TODAY

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—American farmers today have more reason for optimism than any time since the war, Clifton V. Gregory, Chicago, editor of the Prairie Farmer, told farmers who had gathered at the university farm last night to honor ten men who had been chosen to that rank.

Gregory said that the "hard-luck story" of American agriculture which had been told to have other professions and industries sympathize with the farmers had had a reaction on the farmers. He said the story had been over-told and the farmers themselves and their children now believed there was no future in the industry.

The farmers honored included: J. T. Holmes, Northfield; Harry A. Hilsley, Fairbault, and Ferdinand H. Ross, Fisher.

REPARATIONS FRONT NOW SHIFTS FROM THE HAGUE PARLEY

SCENE TRANSFERRED TO THE PARLIAMENTS OF 15 NATIONS, 3 DOMINIONS

DELEGATES YESTERDAY SIGNED THE REVISED YOUNG PLAN PROTOCOL

The Hague, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The reparations front shifted today from The Hague to the parliaments of 15 nations and three dominions whose delegates yesterday signed the revised Young plan protocol.

As soon as those governments ratify the agreement, perhaps even before, troops will be on the move again, with the last of French forces evacuating the Rhineland. Those soldiers will never go back so long as Germany does payments.

The Hague conference, which began Jan. 3 and ended yesterday, was intended to put a final end to reparations squabbles. It succeeded in principle, but must be followed by a smaller conference at Paris in which details are arranged for the handling of Balkan property claims.

The United States did not sign the Young plan protocol, having made its own settlement with Germany.

THREATENED TO BURN MONEY IF LEFT BEQUEST BY FATHER

Woodbury, N. J., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Seven years ago when August Mueller and his father quarreled, August said: "If you leave me any money when you die I'll burn it."

Albert Mueller, the father, died Dec. 31. His will was probated today. He left August $1.

"I make this bequest," the will said, "so that you may do with the money what you said you would."

BREAKS WERE AGAINST WM. SANDS OF ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The breaks were just against William Sands.

While driving his car Sunday, admittedly under the influence of beverages of high potentiality, he got in the way of a police car. He was jailed for driving while drunk. Today he was sentenced to 10 days in the workhouse.

HUCKINS TO GO ON TRIAL FEBRUARY 3

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—George E. Huckins will go to trial Feb. 3 on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, it was decided today.

Huckins, youngest member of an investment partnership in which thousands of dollars were invested by residents of a dozen states, pleaded not guilty when arraigned today.

LADY MARY HEATH, ENGLISH AVIATRIX, FILES FOR DIVORCE

Reno, Nev., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—Lady Mary Heath, English aviatrix, had on file today a suit for divorce from Sir James Heath.

The divorce complaint charged that Sir James was "pennurious," and threatened to disclaim parentage of any children that might be born to him, stating that the cost of raising children was too high.

English courts recently sustained Sir James in his refusal to pay certain bills contracted by Lady Heath.

WAS BREWED IN FAR REACHES OF THE NORTHWEST

TEMPERATURES SENT TO LOW MARK AS THE STORM WHIRLS DOWN

22 INCHES SNOW BLANKETS THE GROUND IN SOME PORTIONS OF NORTHWEST

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—A blizzard brewed in the far reaches of the northwest swept over the Rocky Mountains today toward the central states as they were recovering from last week's onslaught of winter. Temperatures were sent to zero and lower in the transcontinental divide territory when the storm whirled down from Montana and Idaho, leaving at its source mercury readings that were near the bottom of the thermometer tubes.

Weather forecasters expected the blizzard to waste itself in the middle west and touch the Great Lakes region lightly if at all. In the central forecast area relatively balmy temperatures were offset by a heavy wet snow.

Temperatures in the lower Great Lakes territory did not rise, however, until great ice jams were formed in the flooded valley of the Wabasha, which went over its banks last week and drove hundreds from their low-land homes.

Army engineers today set fuses and caps to a string of bombs preparatory to attempting to dislodge a gigantic gorge at Riverton and Hyattsville, Ind., where the jam has backed the swollen Wabash to flood height again.

The river had risen more than a foot today and sent the icy waters lapping again at the tops of levees which crumbled but held last week.

Near Vincennes, which escaped a disastrous flood by inches last week, rescue boats again pushed out today into the inland lakes of back water to reach 75 families still marooned and believed short of firewood and food.

Weather bureaus reported no immediate relief from the cold wave in the northwest. Twenty-two inches of snow blanketed the ground and there was prospect of more.

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—After establishing the second coldest temperatures record of the winter today, the cold wave moderated slightly.

At 8 A. M. the official reading was 19 degrees below zero. This reading was surpassed only by the record cold of 25 below made last week. At 11 A. M., however, the mercury had risen to 14 below.

LABOR GOVERNMENT TWICE DEFEATED HOUSE OF LORDS

London, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The labor government was defeated twice in the house of lords today on motions concerning the unemployment insurance bill.

The second defeat was by a vote of 94 to 14. The lords approved the motion of Lord Banbury to omit clause four of the unemployment insurance bill.

Earlier in the day, the lords had approved a motion of the Marquis of Salisbury for postponement of consideration of the first 19 clauses of the bill until after consideration of the 20th or last clause. The vote was 107 to 18, but the defeat was not considered likely to result in a cabinet crisis.

Engineer Succumbs to Wounds Received When Engine Exploded

Red Wing, Minn., Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The body of Harry Podas, 45, engineer of a railroad locomotive that exploded near here Jan. 9, was sent to the Twin Cities for burial today.

Podas died in St. John's hospital last night from injuries received in the blast. He is survived by the widow and six children and had been employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway for 20 years.

Two other trainmen, Harry Donaldson, fireman, and William Farmer, brakeman, are recovering from injuries suffered in the explosion, which was partially due to sub-zero weather.

Minnesota Motor Express Co. Permit Suspended

St. Paul, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today suspended the permit of the Minnesota Motor Express company to operate between the Twin Cities and Moorhead.

The commission instructed the concern to pay claims totaling more than $400 of shippers who charged the company had failed to pay that sum in C. O. D. deliveries.

Hearing in Jan. 15 was said to have shown that the concern had not operated over the route since Dec. 20.

Tries to Stem Tide of Indiana River

Men working busily at laying sandbags along the banks of the White River in an effort to check the flood which eventually swept over a large part of the city, inundating many dwellings and places of business. The above photo was taken at Hazelton, south of Vincennes, Indiana, at the approach to the White River Bridge.

The honors were won by Mrs. Ralph Reid and Evelyn Flansburg. Following the game of 500, there was an hour of story telling. At a late hour Mrs. Anderson, the hostess, served a luncheon.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

January 21, 1905

Miss Mae McFadden left this afternoon for the cities on business. The Misses McFadden expect to remove from Brainerd the latter part of February and will locate at Port Arthur.

Prof. Keppel, formerly in the schools of this city, passed through this afternoon enroute to Aitkin with the St. Cloud Normal basketball team where they will play a game tonight.

A. J. Elliot, supply agent for the N. P., was in the city this morning on business.

The district conference of the Swedish Lutheran church, which has been in session in the church for the past two days adjourned this morning after a very successful meeting. The conference was held at this time to discuss the needs of the district in the missionary line and to talk over other matters of importance affecting the work of the district so that the delegates to the big state conference at Duluth will be able to lay the needs before the big gathering in a clear manner. This district comprises fifteen congregations.

W. W. Koons, district deputy of the order of Elks, was in the city last evening. He is making a tour of his district for the purpose of giving some instructions regarding a revision of some of the rules of the order. There is also a movement on foot to establish what will be known as the Minnesota State Elks Association. It is expected a meeting will be held in St. Paul in a short time to discuss the matter.

Miss Fannie Schonemann, sister of Mrs. C. M. Patek and Mrs. Henry J. Cohen, passed away yesterday at her home in Chicago. Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Patek were in Chicago at the time of her death.

St. Paul's Episcopal Guild

The St. Paul's Episcopal guild will meet Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 22, at the home of Mrs. Frank Johnson, 321 North Fifth street, and will be entertained by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. R. R. Gould. This will be the first meeting with the new president presiding and it is hoped that every member will make an effort to be present.

Methodist Church Aid

The ladies aid of the First Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. The hostesses are Mrs. Louis Johnson, Mrs. Fred Reid, and Mrs. F. A. Kufus. Members are urged to be present, visitors are welcome.

Methodist Men's Brotherhood

The Methodist Men's Brotherhood will meet at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the church for their monthly supper and business meeting. There will be election of officers and a program, and all men of the church, and any interested friends are invited to come. The supper will be served by Circle No. 2, Mrs. Geo. Senn, chairman.

Royal Neighbors to Meet

The Royal Neighbors will hold regular meeting tonight at the I. O. O. F. hall. The meeting will be called at 7:15 o'clock. Following the meeting, the Modern Woodmen of America and Royal Neighbors will hold joint installation. After the installation there will be a dance for Royal Neighbors, Modern Woodmen, and their families.

TO INSTALL SPECIAL TELEPHONE FOR FIRE

A special telephone for fire only, unlisted in the telephone book, which will be rung by the telephone operator on a fire call will be installed in the fire hall as will be planned by the fire, light and water committee of the city council.

The fire alarm telephone will be rung only in the event of fire and can be distinguished from personal calls made.

Operators however will continue to ask "Is there a fire?" when patrons call 100 even though their message will not concern a fire.

WARNER TO HAVE CITY HALL OFFICE

J. H. Warner, judge of municipal court, was granted an office in the city hall by the city council last evening. His office will be located on the second floor of the building.

Mooseheart Card Party

The women of the Mooseheart Legion will give a card party on Thursday, January 23, at the Moose hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. Five hundred will be played, and four prizes given. At the close of the evening a lunch will be served by the committee in charge. Everybody is invited.

COVERED THEM

He—Girls used to have curves. She—Yes—and hid 'em.

They Know Everything

Poor Harry starved to death one day because he had no dough. He tried to sell a little book, "What Every Girl Should Know."

The Barber Passes

A young chap with an eyebrow mustache came in and asked of the barber? "Can you trim my mustache?"

"I'd rather not. I'm a bit shaky this morning. One false move and the whole thing would be gone."

Sometimes Duty a Pleasure

Mr. Van Nagg—Say, Jane, I think you fib a little occasionally.

Mrs. Van Nagg—Well, I think it is a wife's duty, John.

Mr. Van Nagg—A wife's duty?

Mrs. Van Nagg—Yes, to speak well of her husband occasionally.

The Better Name

"Isn't the man you were talking to a lobbyist?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "He's one of those chaps who sell influence they can't deliver. He's no lobbyist. He's a short-change performer."—Washington Star.

Natural Question

Johnny (as his grown-up sister adds the finishing touches to her toilet)—Why do you put all that stuff on your face, Alice?

Alice—To make me look pretty.

Johnny—Well, why doesn't it?—Stray Stories.

Cottage Prayer Meeting

The Salvation Army will hold cottage prayer meeting tonight at 319 Holly street. On Wednesday evening, cottage prayer meeting will be held at 401 Main street.

PHYSICAL ASSETS IN CITY SHOW FINE GAIN

City's Financial Statement Shows $206,330 Improvement in Three Years

FULLERTON MAKES SURVEY

Urges Every Effort be Made in Securing Repeal of Gross Earnings Law

The valuation statement of physical properties and statement of all liabilities in the city at the close of the calendar year, 1929, as compiled by City Attorney D. H. Fullerton contains an interesting survey of conditions in the city showing a very favorable outlook.

Assets of the city total $1,707,500 while the total liabilities are in substance $441,820, leaving a net total asset of $1,265,680.

The Brainerd school district is not included in the figures. Valuation of schools is estimated conservatively at $800,000 over and about debt which if considered in the physical properties would increase the total net assets in the city to $2,065,180.

The cost of operating city government according to figures of the Minnesota State Tax Commission is approximately one quarter of the average of all cities, towns and villages of the state.

Under the present charter which in relation to the establishment of funds was established in 1918 records show that the present tax rate is practically the average levy since 1918. The greatest levy was made in 1923 when 26 mills was set for maintenance of city government. The lowest rate was in 1924 which was the money spent in 1925, the rate then being 21.50 mills. In 1929 the levy will be 23.75 mills.

"Comparing the statement for 1929 with that of 1926 we find that our liabilities, that is our bonded indebtedness, has during the three years decreased $115,080, and that during the same period our improvements, that is our physical assets, have increased $91,250 for a net gain in the three years of $206,330," said Mr. Fullerton. "Never in the history of the city can such a fine financial statement be equalled. The city has actually paid over $400,000 towards paying in a period of ten years."

"Although our expenditures are small compared to the average throughout the state the tax on any given piece of property is much higher than what would be true if it was not for the fact that the system of taxing railways in this state, different from the method used in practically every state in the union, provides for the payment of taxes under the so called gross earnings law to the state of Minnesota, thus depriving the local government of such taxes. To illustrate, the railway properties in Brainerd are many times greater than those of the Northwest Paper Co., perhaps 20 times as great, yet the paper mill pays approximately $25,000 in taxes annually, approximately one quarter of which goes to local government and 40 percent to the Brainerd school district while the city proper receives from all railway properties only $10,000, the balance of the tax amounting conservatively to $80,000 going to the state.

"My conclusion is that every effort should be made as is being done through the League of Minnesota Municipalities to change the system of distributing the gross earnings tax to the end that the local units of government where railway properties are located should receive the tax from properties located within their limits."

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

It used to be considered in school work for children the "three r's"—

Grace J. Austin. face, form and "frizzes." The last is not a specially poetic name for hair—but it is the only one to fit the "r" plan.

Of them all, the "frizzes," or the color of the hair, and the color of the eyes have been supposed for years to set the keynote for things to be worn or let severely alone. The red-haired woman is almost sure to look her best in green, and so is in quite good luck this year. The pure blondes in pastels, which are especially emphasized in southern wear; the brown-haired in nearly every shade but gray, and the real brunette in black and gold creations find their best charm.

There is a little secret about the uneven hemline. Dame Fashion has just learned it, but it seems highly reasonable. It is said to give illusion and rhythm in addition to being more becoming than a straight-around ankle-length gown. The uneven hemline takes away that flutter of anxious thought with which many a woman has stood on tiptoe before her mirror, questioning, "Does my dress hang straight?"

Dame Fashion not so long ago had an opportunity for observing the gowns of about 600 women who had assembled from all quarters of a large state at its capital, to spend two days in a civic and semi-political convention. In their business sessions there were many ensemble suits to be seen, with three-quarter length coats, often heavily trimmed with fur.

The governor's wife received these women at the executive mansion with an evening reception. Among the company in general, black evening gowns predominated, followed in number by red ones, and then by gold or golden tan. Lace was a favorite material, and was more in evidence than velvet. The hostess received in a gown of gold brocade, with four inset flares in the long skirt, which had a pronouncedly uneven hemline.

One of the noted political women present, holding an office in congress, wore eggshell satin and lace, studded with pearl trimming and rhinestones. The president of the convention wore a long black lace gown, with pearls as jewels, while a national committee woman, most strikingly gowned of all, wore an evening ensemble of cloth of gold, having wide flares inset at both sides of the skirt, and her three-quarter cape of the ensemble edged with ermine.

But after all, most of us are more interested in pretty wear for the home kitchen than for a governor's drawing room. Not so many mornings ago when the day was exceedingly gray and cheerless, Dame Fashion saw a young woman come out to sweep her front walk. She wore a smock that was simply glorious for its mixed designs in brilliant color, modernistic or Chinese or whatever it may have been. It gave such a thrill of pleasure just to see it for a moment. Artists were the first to adopt the smock—but how about it? Isn't nearly every girl and woman in these days an artist in life?

Fishing Superstitions
Some Scottish fishermen will not go to sea if a tame man crosses their path, and in the neighborhood of Aberdeen it is considered unlucky to meet a red-haired or flat-footed person. If Fifth of Forth fishermen meet a bare-footed woman with flat feet where they are going to sea they are sure of having bad luck on that day, and prefer to stay at home.

Be moderate
AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate! ... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

terial, and was more in evidence than velvet. The hostess received in a gown of gold brocade, with four inset flares in the long skirt, which had a pronouncedly uneven hemline.

One of the noted political women present, holding an office in congress, wore eggshell satin and lace, studded with pearl trimming and rhinestones. The president of the convention wore a long black lace gown, with pearls as jewels, while a national committee woman, most strikingly gowned of all, wore an evening ensemble of cloth of gold, having wide flares inset at both sides of the skirt, and her three-quarter cape of the ensemble edged with ermine.

But after all, most of us are more interested in pretty wear for the home kitchen than for a governor's drawing room. Not so many mornings ago when the day was exceedingly gray and cheerless, Dame Fashion saw a young woman come out to sweep her front walk. She wore a smock that was simply glorious for its mixed designs in brilliant color, modernistic or Chinese or whatever it may have been. It gave such a thrill of pleasure just to see it for a moment. Artists were the first to adopt the smock—but how about it? Isn't nearly every girl and woman in these days an artist in life?

Fishing Superstitions
Some Scottish fishermen will not go to sea if a lame man crosses their path, and in the neighborhood of Aberdeen it is considered unlucky to meet a red-haired or flat-footed person. If Firth of Forth fishermen meet a barefooted woman with flat feet where they are going to sea they are sure of having bad luck on that day, and prefer to stay at home.

Be moderate
AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Can Supply the Remedy

THE question of how to maintain butter prices at levels that will permit of profitable production continues to hold the center of the stage. The Wadena Pioneer Journal has on several occasions commented upon the situation and can see no reason for revising the views expressed, namely, that the remedy lies within the hands of the farmers, themselves.

It is estimated that 350 million pounds of butter substitutes were eaten in American homes last year and that 60 per cent of that enormous amount was purchased and consumed by American farmers. Had these farmers been loyal to their own best interests by patronizing their own industry we would not today have a surplus of 140 million pounds of butter in storage, neither would butter fat be down to 40 cents and less.

Doesn't it seem incredible that any farmer can be so short sighted as to resort to the use of butter substitutes, particularly at a time when there is a large surplus of butter on hand? No wonder that agriculture is not in a more prosperous condition when up-to-date farmers are compelled to compete with so many misguided competitors. These individuals are breaking their own markets and breaking many a good man at the same time.

Farmers' wives can also help the situation greatly by using lard instead of cooking compounds. A large percentage of the finished hog is fat. Destroy the market for fat and down goes the price of pork. The whole thing is simple mathematics and the solution lies largely in the hands of the farmers, themselves.

Federal Printed Envelopes

ACCORDING to St. Paul advices as published in the Publishers' Auxiliary of January 14, the Industrial Conservation board's effort to remove government competition with private industry in the printing of envelopes has brought the Dayton, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce into action again, according to the current issue of the N. E. A. Service Bulletin. The plant of the International Envelope corporation, which now has the contract for manufacturing stamped and printed envelopes for the Post Office Department, is located in Dayton.

It will be recalled that the former contractor, the Middle West Supply company, used the Dayton Chamber of Commerce as its agency in waging a nation-wide campaign against two previous efforts made by the N. E. A. legislative committee to remedy the situation by congressional action.

So it simmers down to this. Federal envelopes are let out by contract by the government and made by a private firm bidding for the job.

Let the local printer print your envelopes and buy stamps. Or, if that cannot be done, buy the blank stamped envelopes from the post office and let the local printer attach your business imprint. The government should never be in competition with private business.

Live and Dead Towns

THERE are two questions often asked by residents of towns like Park Rapids, says the Enterprise of that town.

"What is the difference between a live town and a dead town?"

"How does one community earn the reputation of being enterprising while another is called stagnant?"

Both towns may look the same, and both have the same natural advantages—yet one has the reputation of being dead and the other alive.

As we see it the difference lies in the attitude of the citizens themselves. A live town is one in which there are plenty of men and women ready to take hold and put over any worthy community enterprise, and a dead town is one in which every man is too selfishly engrossed in his own affairs to spend any time on community matters.

That answers both questions. Now you fit the answers to your individual efforts and see if you don't notice an improvement in your own community before 1930 has run its course.

Weather Vagaries

SOMEWHERE, some time a man advanced the theory that the weather progressed in certain movements, repeating phenomena. A recent article by a U. S. Weather Bureau authority says data must be accumulated for a thousand years before graphs can be made with any degree of certainty in forecasting for lengthy periods.

Take this winter, for instance. Usually, during a cold spell, the extreme low point of the night's temperature was moderated somewhat by the advent of morning. The three cold snaps we have had give us almost as cold a period at 8 a. m. as the lowest point reached during the night.

The weather appears to be as uncertain as many a woman's whims. Snowfall fluctuates too. The only certain thing connected with a Minnesota winter is that there will be quite an incursion in the coal or wood pile.

Park Board is Commended

MINNESOTA MUNICIPALITIES, published monthly by the League of Minnesota Municipalities, carries an article commending the work of the Brainerd park board. The January issue states:

"The park board of Brainerd which boasts one of the fine park systems in the state reports the best financial year it has had since 1918. Efficiency has been as much a part of the program as economy; numerous improvements have been made to the grounds and play equipment added. Outstanding bills of previous years have been paid with the aid of the rent from concessions."

The members of the park board are Carl Wright, president, Tourist park; Hugo A. Kattz, secretary, Lum park; Mrs. A. C. Weber, Gregory park.

FIVE Fargo service clubs entered contestants in the milking contest at the eighth annual Little International Livestock show at the North Dakota Agricultural college, January 16.

THE 21st annual convention of the Central Minnesota Dairy-men and Creamery Operators association will be held at St. Cloud on February 11 and 12.

BRAINERD CAGERS
WIN THREE GAMES
OVER WEEK-END

REGULARS BEAT STAPLES, 33-28;
AITKIN SWAMPED, 41-7

As if to vindicate the defeat it suffered last Friday, the Brainerd High cagers defeated Staples 33 to 28 and, on the following evening swamped Aitkin by the overwhelming score of 41 to 7. Even the seconds connected as they won from Motley, 17 to 16. Coach Warren Kasch's outfit displayed some excellent reserve strength, especially at Staples during the final period when they scored seven points against their opponents' three, after the outcome seemed to rest on hinges throughout the third quarter. Team-work and timely breaking was characteristic of the squad over the week-end. Aitkin seemed somewhat lost on the big gym last Saturday and as a result received its second setback of the week, having lost to Cromwell the previous night.

For Staples, Aiden played a superior shooting game. The Red and White captain scored all but twelve of his team's points, having sunk six field goals and four free throws. Read, the center, had an off night while the others had difficulty in finding the hoop. Practically all their baskets were made on long shots while the Blue and White teamed up for close-in tip shots. Captain Guin, Hautala and E. Foster displayed old time form while Clausen and Elmer Foster joined them for some excellent combination work.

Hautala was high point man with six field goals and four free throws. This coming week-end is the classic road trip of the year in the form of a game with Alexandria on Friday evening and on the following night one with the highly touted St. Cloud aggregation. Although these teams are not in this district, the results may tend to give some bearing as to regional recognition, not considering the possibility of a team upsetting the dope-bucket which is so characteristic of this sport.

Brainerd's 2nds 17, Motley 16

In a fast and furious exhibition of basketball on an under-sized gym, the Brainerd High seconds won from Motley last Saturday evening on the latter's floor, by the close count of 17 and 16.

The waxed floor and low ceiling made team work a remote possibility but nevertheless, a final quarter bombardment sewed up the game in favor of the Blue and White.

Those making the trip were: Acting Captain Mayo, Larson, Gabiou, D. Guin, Templeton, Dryburgh and White. The team was accompanied by Rolf Melby of the high school faculty.

Scoring honors went to Captain Mayo with four field goals and one free throw.

LATIN CLASS PRESENTS
SIX WEEKS PROJECTS

Upon arrival in class yesterday, Latin II students were asked to decide upon the marks to be given the projects which were brought in that morning.

Much originality was shown in the various projects of which Clara Grimstead's and Barbara Zapffe's were chosen as the best in the second period class. They were concerned with a typical Roman Temple and a poster of drawings on Latin in Biology.

Joseph Marchel of the sixth period class made a very good poster on "Latin in the Literary Digest" and Anna Cass and Bernard Lind made model cottages.

DAVE

Old Lady (to Weston Schobe who had been snuffing most annoyingly): "Young man, have you got a handkerchief?"

Weston Schobe (with quiet dignity): "Yes, I have, Madam, but I don't care to lend it to strangers."

Tommy Templeton (to Wilfred Knutsen): Say, there, do you know anything about driving a car?

Wilfred Knutsen: Why surely, officer. What is it you would like to know?

Surgeon: Here's my bill, you are to pay $100 down and $25 a week.

Patient: That sounds like buying a car.

Surgeon: I am.

Miss Tornstrom (at class play practice): Now, Ross, look stupidly at the audience. That is, just turn around and face them.

Angry Farmer (to Fred Mraz, who has just run over his pig): Hey, there, young feller, what's the idea?

Fred Mraz: Oh, don't worry, I'll replace the pig.

Angry Farmer: Don't flatter yourself, young feller, don't flatter yourself.

Patricia Zwicky (in great excitement): Oh Lorraine! Hattie is in the house with a wild guest.

Lorraine Enemark: Well, the wild cat will have to get out as best he can.

Tryouts for Debating
Club Delayed by Exams

Tryouts for membership in a debating club have been held during the past week. Thus far results have not been satisfactory due to pressure of school work and examinations so that Miss Oerting plans to set aside one more day for try-outs.

As an adjunct of the proposed debating club, Miss Herwig plans to have a debate in connection with the Social Problems club. The question is: "Resolved, that the present petit or trial jury system in the United States should be abolished." It is the one being used by the State High School League. The debate will take place in February or March.

Students are urged to see Miss Oerting and give evidence concerning an assigned proposition. The club must begin functioning immediately to do good work and to make the Social Problems debate possible.

EIGHTH GRADES MOVE
TO NEW HIGH SCHOOL

With mixed feeling of rejoicing and awe, the students of the eighth grades of the Harrison, Lowell, Lincoln, and Whittier schools entered the portals of the new high school for the first time today to officially take up the pursuits of knowledge in their new position.

The students will be supervised by Miss Justin, of the Lincoln and Harrison schools, Miss Campbell, also of the Lincoln school, Mrs. Fleming, and Miss Bratvett who have been teaching advanced eighth and mixed grade before this time.

The Lincoln schools heads the list in numbers, sending over 33 students while the Whittier, Lowell, and Harrison have 29, 28, and 32 students respectively.

Junior Hi-Y Club Debates
on Topic of Prohibition

After dining in the club rooms of the Y. M. C. A. the members of the Junior Hi-Y debated whether or not high school students should be interested in prohibition.

The members finally decided after a five minute debate by four members that the 18th amendment was as much their law as the voters because in a few years they would be the leaders of the country and that the law could not be enforced to the fullest extent without the cooperation of the high school students.

'Doug' Kasch Inspires
Brainerd Basketeers

Douglas Warren Kasch, infant son of Coach Warren Kasch, seemingly inspired the Blue and White basketball team to such an extent that the aggregation won both games with apparent ease. Mr. Kasch's smile is broad and expansive these days and all students back in his good nature. Pardon us for this one, Mr. Kasch, but will this good nature of yours be manifest when you begin to walk the floor nights?

TRI-HI CLUB HEARS
TALK ON VACATIONS

Vacations for which girls should find themselves, was the subject of Mrs. L. W. Hawkins's talk to the Tri-Hi members last Monday night at their regular meeting. She gave names of schools and colleges where these vacations are taught. Many colleges give scholarships to students working their way through school. If the student shows that she is worthy of the scholarship. Working in tea rooms, being a bell girl or waiting on tables, are ways in which money may be made.

Miss Helen Farrankop, one of the Tri-Hi advisers, who spent the Christmas holidays in California gave a ten minute talk on the Army-Stanford football game and the East-West football game played New Year's Day at San Francisco. Miss Bertha Fik, new Home Economics instructor, outlined the work which is to be carried out this semester in the Home Training department.

All of these talks were extremely interesting and helped to make this meeting one of the best of the season. The sale of candy at the Crosby-Ironton basketball game netted $12, which will be used to further Tri-Hi activities.

COMING OR GOING
WE CATCH 'EM

Among the Brainerd students who attended the Staples-Brainerd game were Hallett Clarkson, Warren Golemboski, Leroy Wyatt, Otto Dahl, Dan Lively, Gerald Cass, Claude Holden, Alberta Smith, Evelyn Foster, Obert Benson, Ned Benson, "Mickey" Garvey, Allan McKay and Louise Kluesman.

Mr. Kasch and Mr. Melby accompanied the team to Staples Friday night.

Daniel Boone the second has been discovered in the person of Elmer Lukens. If you don't believe me look at his fur cap.

Miss Herwig spent the week-end in St. Cloud on business.

The scaffold out at Ahren's hill attracted a great many skiers over the week-end and some pretty jumps were made. The scaffold was erected by Art Hickerson, his older brother, and Alfred Abrahamson. It is situated on the north end of Gilbert lake.

Janet Kampmann, feature editor of the Brainerdian, has been ill for the past week and her classmates and Brainerdian staff mates express their deepest sympathy.

Classmates of Gerald Halvorson are glad to see him back at school again after being out on account of an injury to his knee. —A. N.

Extra! Extra! Extra!

Rumors are afloat to the effect that the faculty members are planning to use the gym one night a week for the purpose of keeping fit. It is thought that a faculty basketball team will be organized and when enough practice has been available, the aforesaid aggregation will challenge Coach Kasch's third team to a grueling game after which tea may be served.

Misses Helen Torgerson and Helen Farrankop are expected to play the guard positions with tall Miss Mathis as the running center. Much competition is being shown for the forward positions but a regular line-up may materialize soon.

In addition to basketball, our mentors will engage in handball, gym exercises and volley ball. Miss Tornstrom expects to referee all games and thus reduce disputes to a minimum.

ELEVEN STUDENTS SIGN
UP FOR STUDY OF ART

Eleven students have enrolled for the newly organized seventh period art class under the supervision of Miss True.

New desks especially designed for art have been put in the mechanical drawing room.

The following projects are to be worked out during the coming semester: general designs of form and color, lettering for commercial work, poster work for activities, water color and naturalistic work figure study, and nature sketches in ink and pencil technique.

There is room for nine more students, who may wish to enroll.

George Gilbertson of the U. S. navy is home for a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilbertson. Mr. Gilbertson is a torpedo officer on the destroyer "Coghlan." He will return Monday to New Port, R. I., to resume his duties.

Assembly periods last week were used primarily for announcements and instructions concerning the semester examinations which were held Wednesday and Thursday according to schedule. Hereafter, announcements will be reduced to a minimum and assembly sessions will concern themselves with song and speech.

NOTICE

Monday, January, 28, is dedication night for the new Brainerd high school. All citizens and voters are invited to attend the exercises of the evening. Governor Theodore Christianson will be the chief speaker and the remainder of the program will be furnished by local talent. Students are not expected to attend for they will have an opportunity to hear the governor Monday afternoon.

REBOUNDS

Besides winning three games the other week, the cagers accomplished another feat. According to Coach Hahn of Staples we gave him the second defeat his team ever received on their home court. The first one was by the Bertha basketeers.

Which is the bigger sensation, going on a small floor after being accustomed to a large gym or vice versa? It must be the latter considering the Aitkin and Motley games.

The team is scheduled to get new suits for the coming road trip. This should give them added color, if not in playing then in appearance.

There was that Aitkin guard who seemed to be having a good time Saturday for he always had a pleasing grin on his cheeks.

This phrase seems to hold good in all sports as well as all walks of life: For when the one Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost But how you played the game.

The score by periods of the Aitkin fray follows: first, Brainerd 10, Aitkin 1; second, Brainerd 23, Aitkin 6; third, Brainerd 32, Aitkin 7; final, Brainerd 41, Aitkin 7.

The floor at Motley was so slippery the other night that the seconds would have undoubtedly agreed to have each side add on another player and make a hockey game out of it. That is, if clubs and a puck could have been dug up.

Many new features of design. You'll like the 1930 Brainerdian.

At last! The Bigger & Better Brainerdian. Make a down payment this week.

NUMBER OF DRAMATIC
CONTESTANTS REDUCED

Further elimination among dramatic contestants was conducted after the seventh period yesterday, in Miss Oerting's room. It was decided that the seven people still remaining must have four rehearsals satisfactory to the coaches, before the public program.

On January 31, a guest rehearsal will be held in the auditorium after school. Each contestant may invite ten friends, thus making a small audience which will help to prepare the dramatists for public speaking on February 3, when the local contest will be held at 7:45 P. M. in the new auditorium.

The seven persons chosen to compete in this program are: Marjorie Forsberg, Mildred Johnson, Alyce Little, Ardele Persson, Lela Shobe, Bernice Steinfeldt, and Maycelle Workman.

Contestants in humor and oratory met today to decide upon dates for their public program, which will be announced later.

A Bigger and Better Annual is being printed and the B. H. S. is printing it. It's called the 1930 Brainerdian.

Now under construction! The 1930 Brainerdian. Buy yours now.

RICHARD EBERT CALLS
ATTENTION TO ANNUAL

Richard Ebert, Brainerdian annual editor, gave a short sales talk in behalf of the annual of 1930 last Tuesday in the assembly. He called attention to the fact that Freshmen and Sophomores have ordered 80 of the year books thus far. More orders are expected from those two classes but the upper classmen will no doubt demand a majority of the books. Richard urged that a payment be made immediately lest there be a shortage in the number of annuals printed.

The speaker called attention to the sentimental value of these annuals. He declared that in years to come, a sum of money could be commensurate with the relative importance attached to the year books by the owners.

Donald E. McKay, son of C. D. McKay was a holiday visitor at the home of his parents. He has recently been commissioned as a Lieut. J. g. which means Lieutenant junior grade. He is at present gunning officer on the U. S. S. Downes and has just been sent from Boston to New London.

Start the New Year Right! Make a down payment on a 1930 Annual!

New model coming out in June. Make a down payment on one and insure delivery. The new 1930 Annual!

MAYOR LITTLE
TO BE SPEAKER
AT SOCIAL CLUB

ADDITIONAL ENTERTAINMENT
PLANNED FOR MEETING
THURSDAY

Mayor Frank E. Little will be the principal speaker at the Social Problems club meeting that is to be held the coming Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M.

The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint the students with city government. In addition to this a new type of spelldown is being planned in which noted celebrities will take the place of words. To remain in the game the player must correctly identify the person so the members of the club are advised to brush up on their general knowledge of Who's Who.

Thursday evening will be guest night, and each member will be permitted to bring one guest, either an adult or a Senior but no under classmen. Those eligible are: Lucille Bryan, Mildred Gustafson, Evelyn Hoffmann, Lillian Fox, Claude Holden, Onalee Lewis, Genevieve Jenkins, Ross Olmsted, Betty Robertson, Mabel Nelson, Selma Nygaard, Hattie Zawadzki, Roland Jenkins, Lorraine Enemark, Howard Aspholm, Wilford Aspholm, Otto Dahl, Rose Gudmunson, John Hoffbauer, Ingeborg Johnson, Gladys Little, Roger Kleven, Martin Olson, Weston Schobe, Ellenore Schley, Mildred Vanderwerker, Edith Peterson, Fred Weideman, Alice Lind, Richard Ebert, Adolf Erickson, Edith Frost, Evelyn Grimstead, Arthur Hautala, Clarence Holden, Roger Calahan, Hilda Dybvick, Gerald Falkenreck, Wallace Anderson, Obert Benson, Lois Gerrard, Carroll Guin, Virginia Cook, Arthur LeMire, Sylvia Swanson, Leslie Swanson, Frank Ylinen, Margaret Meyers, Ruth Anderson, Elwood Anderson, Almira Christianson, Ethel Kugel, Yelda Magnuson, Ardele Persson, Hazel Persson, Lillian Turner, Zane Smith.

HI-Y CLUB FEATURES
RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION

Another one of those delicious suppers for which the Hi-Y's fame is great was given Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. But, of course, suppers are not the important matters of the club. The boys realized that Miss Tornstrom is not the only person who gives announcements as Mr. Peterson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. took the stand at the meeting and gave his share. Very few business matters were acted upon, and then the subject of the evening was brought forward. The group entered into a rather lengthy discussion with Mr. Peterson and Mr. Penrose of the high school faculty on religious questions. All the boys gave their opinions and arguments pro and con on various matters. Some of the questions were as follows: "What is a Christian?" "Opinion of Evangelism." "Who was Mohammed?" "Who was Confucius?" "Part ceremony plays in a church." "Importance of baptism." These questions aroused everyone to enter in the discussion. The prize of the evening went to Mr. Penrose who thoroughly convinced the Hi-Y of his lecturing ability on historical subjects. He gave a very vivid description of Mohammedanism and the territory in which it holds sway. The explanation of Mohammed's crescent proved of much interest. Elwood Anderson and Richard Ebert were appointed to find material on next week's topic: "Contributions of the Dark Ages to Christianity."

The Hi-Y is looking forward to the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. clubs at which the club will serve. This will take place January 29.

CLASS IN JOURNALISM
ABOUT TO ORGANIZE

All would-be reporters, newspapermen, reviewers, editors and department heads in addition to those who have already reached those enviable heights are invited to enter a journalism class which will be held every Wednesday at 3:45 in room 208. The instructor who has had practical newspaper experience is at present the Brainerdian Weekly Adviser.

This invitation is extended to all who are sincerely interested in newspaper work. The class will make a serious effort to study the theories of journalism and will attempt to put those theories into practice.

Opportunity to write forceful and correct English will be one of the benefits to be obtained from such a class. Care in matters of grammar, punctuation and style will be stressed.

The class will encourage the student to read the newspaper with intelligence and understanding. It will also open a new field to the student—that of a vocation to be considered seriously.

All persons who are genuinely interested are cordially invited to be members of this proposed group.

It's striking! It's Smart. The 1930 Annual.
It's Chic! It's New! You'll want a 1930 Annual.

The plan of the International Envelope corporation, which now has the contract for manufacturing stamped and printed envelopes for the Post Office Department, is located in Dayton.

It will be recalled that the former contractor, the Middle West Supply company, used the Dayton Chamber of Commerce as its agency in waging a nation-wide campaign against two previous efforts made by the N. E. A. legislative committee to remedy the situation by congressional action.

So it simmers down to this. Federal envelopes are let out by contract by the government and made by a private firm bidding for the job.

Let the local printer print your envelopes and buy stamps. Or, if that cannot be done, buy the blank stamped envelopes from the post office and let the local printer attach your business imprint. The government should never be in competition with private business.

Live and Dead Towns

THERE are two questions often asked by residents of towns like Park Rapids, says the Enterprise of that town.

"What is the difference between a live town and a dead town?"

"How does one community earn the reputation of being enterprising while another is called stagnant?"

Both towns may look the same, and both have the same natural advantages—yet one has the reputation of being dead and the other alive.

As we see it the difference lies in the attitude of the citizens themselves. A live town is one in which there are plenty of men and women ready to take hold and put over any worthy community enterprise, and a dead town is one in which every man is too selfishly engrossed in his own affairs to spend any time on community matters.

That answers both questions. Now you fit the answers to your individual efforts and see if you don't notice an improvement in your own community before 1930 has run its course.

Weather Vagaries

SOMEWHERE, some time a man advanced the theory that the weather progressed in certain movements, repeating phenomena. A recent article by a U. S. Weather Bureau authority says data must be accumulated for a thousand years before graphs can be made with any degree of certainty in forecasting for lengthy periods.

Take this winter, for instance. Usually, during a cold spell, the extreme low point of the night's temperature was moderated somewhat by the advent of morning. The three cold snaps we have had give us almost as cold a period at 8 a. m. as the lowest point reached during the night.

The weather appears to be as uncertain as many a woman's whims. Snowfall fluctuates too. The only certain thing connected with a Minnesota winter is that there will be quite an incursion in the coal or wood pile.

Park Board is Commended

MINNESOTA MUNICIPALITIES, published monthly by the League of Minnesota Municipalities, carries an article commending the work of the Brainerd park board. The January issue states:

"The park board of Brainerd which boasts one of the fine park systems in the state reports the best financial year it has had since 1918. Efficiency has been as much a part of the program as economy; numerous improvements have been made to the grounds and play equipment added. Outstanding bills of previous years have been paid with the aid of the rent from concessions."

The members of the park board are Carl Wright, president, Tourist park; Hugo A. Katz, secretary, Lum park; Mrs. A. C. Weber, Gregory park.

FIVE Fargo service clubs entered contestants in the milking contest at the eighth annual Little International Livestock show at the North Dakota Agricultural college, January 16.

THE 21st annual convention of the Central Minnesota Dairy-men and Creamery Operators association will be held at St. Cloud on February 11 and 12.

BRAINERD CAGERS
WIN THREE GAMES
OVER WEEK-END

REGULARS BEAT STAPLES, 33-28;
AITKIN SWAMPED,
41-7

As if to vindicate the defeat it suffered last Friday, the Brainerd High cagers defeated Staples 33 to 28 and, on the following evening swamped Aitkin by the overwhelming score of 41 to 7. Even the seconds connected as they won from Motley, 17 to 16.

Coach Warren Kasch's outfit displayed some excellent reserve strength, especially at Staples during the final period when they scored seven points against their opponents' three, after the outcome seemed to rest on hinges throughout the third quarter. Teamwork and timely breaking was characteristic of the squad over the week-end. Aitkin seemed somewhat lost on the big gym last Saturday and as a result received its second setback of the week, having lost to Cromwell the previous night.

For Staples, Aitkin played a superior shooting game. The Red and White captain scored all but twelve of his team's points, having sunk six field goals and four free throws. Read, the center, had an off night while the others had difficulty in finding the hoop. Practically all their baskets were made on long shots while the Blue and White teamed up for close, in tip shots. Captain Guin, Hautala and B. Foster displayed old time form while Clausen and Elmer Foster joined them for some excellent combination work.

Hautala was high point man with six field goals and four free throws. This coming week-end is the classic road trip of the year in the form of a game with Alexandria on Friday evening and on the following night one with the highly touted St. Cloud aggregation. Although these teams are not in this district, the results may tend to give some bearing as to regional recognition, not considering the possibility of a team upsetting, the dope-bucket which is so characteristic of this sport.

Brainerd's 2nds 17, Motley 16

In a fast and furious exhibition of basketball on an under-sized gym, the Brainerd High seconds won from Motley last Saturday evening on the latter's floor, by the close count of 17 and 16.

The waxed floor and low ceiling made team work a remote possibility but nevertheless, a final quarter bombardment sewed up the game in favor of the Blue and White.

Those making the trip were: Acting Captain Mayo, Larson, Gabiou, D. Guin, Templeton, Dryburgh and White. The team was accompanied by Rolf Melby of the high school faculty.

Scoring honors went to Captain Mayo with four field goals and one free throw.

LATIN CLASS PRESENTS
SIX WEEKS PROJECTS

Upon arrival in class yesterday, Latin II students were asked to decide upon the marks to be given the projects which were brought in that morning.

Much originality was shown in the various projects of which Clara Grimstead's and Barbara Zapffe's were chosen as the best in the second period class. They were concerned with a typical Roman Temple and a poster of drawings on Latin in Biology.

Joseph Marchel of the sixth period class made a very good poster on "Latin in the Literary Digest" and Anna Cass and Bernard Lind made model cottages.

Wednesday, 3:40—Brainonian meeting; 3:40—Orchestra practice in auditorium; 7:00—Senior Hi-Y.
Thursday, 3:40 — Boys' Glee Club; 7:00—Junior Hi-Y.
Friday—B. H. S. at Alexandria.
Saturday — Brainerd high vs. St. Cloud there.

Old Lady (to Weston Schobe who had been snuffing most annoyingly): "Young man, have you got a handkerchief?"
Weston Schobe (with quiet dignity): "Yes, I have, Madam, but I don't care to lend it to strangers."

Tommy Templeton (to Wilfred Knutsen): Say, there, do you know anything about driving a car?
Wilfred Knutsen: Why surely, officer. What is it you would like to know?

Surgeon: Here's my bill, you are to pay $100 down and $25 a week.
Patient: That sounds like buying a car.
Surgeon: I am.

Miss Tornstrom (at class play practice): Now, Ross, look stupidly at the audience. That is, just turn around and face them.

Angry Farmer (to Fred Mraz, who has just run over his pig): Hey, there, young feller, what's the idea?
Fred Mraz: Oh, don't worry, I'll replace the pig.

Angry Farmer: Don't flatter yourself, young feller, don't flatter yourself.

Patricia Zwicky (in great excitement): Oh Lorraine! Hattie is in the house with a wild cat.

Lorraine Enemark: Well, the wildcat will have to get out as best he can.

Tryouts for Debating
Club Delayed by Exams

Tryouts for membership in a debating club have been held during the past week. Thus far results have not been satisfactory due to pressure of school work and examinations so that Miss Oertling plans to set aside one more day for try-outs.

As an adjunct of the proposed debating club, Miss Herwig plans to have a debate in connection with the Social Problems club. The question is: "Resolved, that the present petit or trial jury system in the United States should be abolished." It is the one being used by the State High School League. The debate will take place in February or March.

Students are urged to see Miss Oertling and give evidence concerning an assigned proposition. The club must begin functioning immediately to do good work and to make the Social Problems debate possible.

EIGHTH GRADES MOVE
TO NEW HIGH SCHOOL

With mixed feeling of rejoicing and awe, the students of the eighth grades of the Harrison, Lowell, Lincoln, and Whittier schools entered the portals of the new high school for the first time today to officially take up the pursuits of knowledge in their new position.

The students will be supervised by Miss Justin, of the Lincoln and Harrison schools, Miss Campbell, also of the Lincoln school, Mrs. Fleming, and Miss Bratvett who have been teaching advanced eighth and mixed grades before this time.

The Lincoln schools heads the list in numbers, sending over 33 students while the Whittier, Lowell, and Harrison have 29, 28, and 32 students respectively.

Junior Hi-Y Club Debates
on Topic of Prohibition

After dining in the club rooms of the Y. M. C. A. the members of the Junior Hi-Y debated whether or not high school students should be interested in prohibition.

The members finally decided after a five minute debate by four members that the 18th amendment was as much their law as the voters because in a few years they would be the leaders of the country and that the law could not be enforced to the fullest extent without the cooperation of the high school students.

'Dougie' Kasch Inspires
Brainerd Basketeers

Douglas Warren Kasch, infant son of Coach Warren Kasch, seemingly inspired the Blue and White basketball team to such an extent that the aggregation won both games with apparent ease. Mr. Kasch's smile is broad and expansive these days and all students bask in his good nature. Pardon us for this one, Mr. Kasch, but will this good nature of yours be manifest when you begin to walk the floor nights?

TRI-HI CLUB HEARS
TALK ON VACATIONS

Vocations for which girls should fit themselves, was the subject of Mrs. L. W. Hawkins' talk to the Tri-Hi members last Monday night at their regular meeting. She gave names of schools and colleges where these vocations are taught. Many colleges give scholarships to students working their way through school, if the student shows that she is worthy of the scholarship. Working in tea rooms, being a bell girl or waiting on tables, are ways in which money may be earned.

Miss Helen Farrankop, one of the Tri-Hi advisers, who spent the Christmas holidays in California gave a ten minute talk on the Army-Stanford football game and the East-West football game played New Year's Day at San Francisco. Miss Bertha Filie, new Home Economics instructor, outlined the work which is to be carried out this semester in the Home Training department.

All of these talks were extremely interesting and helped to make this meeting one of the best of the season. The sale of candy at the Crosby-Ironton basketball game netted $12, which will be used to further Tri-Hi activities.

COMING OR GOING
WE CATCH 'EM

Among the Brainerd students who attended the Staples-Brainerd game were Hallett Clarkson, Warren Golemboski, Leroy Wyatt, Otto Dahl, Dan Lively, Gerald Cass, Claude Holden, Alberta Smith, Evelyn Foster, Ober Benson, Ned Benson, "Mickey" Garvey, Allan McKay and Louise Kluesman.

Mr. Kasch and Mr. Melby accompanied the team to Staples Friday night.

Daniel Boone the second has been discovered in the person of Elmer Lukens. If you don't believe me look at his fur cap.

Miss Herwig spent the week-end in St. Cloud on business.

The scaffold out at Ahren's hill attracted a great many skiers over the week-end and some pretty jumps were made. The scaffold was erected by Art Hickerson, his older brother, and Alfred Abrahamson. It is situated on the north end of Gilbert lake.

Janet Kampmann, feature editor of the Brainonian, has been ill for the past week and her classmates and Brainonian staff mates express their deepest sympathy.

Classmates of Gerald Halvorsen are glad to see him back at school again after being out on account of an injury to his knee.

Extra! Extra! Extra!

Rumors are afloat to the effect that the faculty members are planning to use the gym one night a week for the purpose of keeping fit. It is thought that a faculty basketball team will be organized and when enough practice has been available, the aforesaid aggregation will challenge Coach Kasch's third team to a grueling game after which tea may be served.

Misses Helen Torgerson and Helen Farrankop are expected to play the guard positions with tall Miss Mathis as the running center. Much competition is being shown for the forward positions but a regular line-up may materialize soon.

In addition to basketball, our mentors will engage in handball, gym exercises and volley ball. Miss Tornstrom expects to referee all games and thus reduce disputes to a minimum.

ELEVEN STUDENTS SIGN
UP FOR STUDY OF ART

Eleven students have enrolled for the newly organized seventh period art class under the supervision of Miss True.

New desks especially designed for art have been put in the mechanical drawing room.

The following projects are to be worked out during the coming semester: general designs of form and color, lettering for commercial work, poster work for activities, water color and naturalistic work figure study, and nature sketches in ink and pencil technique.

There is room for nine more students, who may wish to enroll.

George Gilbertson of the U. S. navy is home for a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilbertson. Mr. Gilbertson is a torpedo officer on the destroyer "Coghlan." He will return Monday to New Port, R. I., to resume his duties.

Assembly periods last week were used primarily for announcements and instructions concerning the semester examinations which were held Wednesday and Thursday according to schedule. Hereafter, announcements will be reduced to a minimum and assembly sessions will concern themselves with song and speech.

NOTICE

Monday, January, 28, is dedication night for the new Brainerd high school. All citizens and voters are invited to attend the exercises of the evening. Governor Theodore Christianson will be the chief speaker and the remainder of the program will be furnished by local talent. Students are not expected to attend for they will have an opportunity to hear the governor Monday afternoon.

REBOUNDS

Besides winning three games the other week, the cagers accomplished another feat. According to Coach Hahn of Staples we gave him the second defeat his team ever received on their home court. The first one was by the Bertha basketeers.

Which is the bigger sensation, going on a small floor after being accustomed to a large gym or vice versa? It must be the latter considering the Aitkin and Motley games.

The team is scheduled to get new suits for the coming road trip. This should give them added color, if not in playing then in appearance.

There was that Aitkin guard who seemed to be having a good time Saturday for he always had a pleasing grin on his cheeks.

This phrase seems to hold good in all sports as well as all walks of life: For when the one Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost But how you played the game.

The score by periods of the Aitkin fray follows: first, Brainerd 10, Aitkin 1; second, Brainerd 23, Aitkin 6; third, Brainerd 32, Aitkin 7; final, Brainerd 41, Aitkin 7.

The floor at Motley was so slippery the other night that the seconds would have undoubtedly agreed to have each side add on another player and make a hockey game out of it. That is, if clubs and a puck could have been dug up.

NUMBER OF DRAMATIC
CONTESTANTS REDUCED

Further elimination among dramatic contestants was conducted after the seventh period yesterday, in Miss Oertling's room. It was decided that the seven people still remaining must have four rehearsals satisfactory to the coaches, before the public program.

On January 31, a guest rehearsal will be held in the auditorium after school. Each contestant may invite ten friends, thus making a small audience which will help to prepare the dramatists for public speaking on February 3, when the local contest will be held at 7:45 P. M. in the new auditorium.

The seven persons chosen to compete in this program are: Marjorie Forsberg, Mildred Johnson, Alyce Little, Ardelle Persson, Lela Shobe, Bernice Steinfeldt, and Maycelle Workman.

Contestants in humor and oratory met today to decide upon dates for their public program, which will be announced later.

A Bigger and Better Annual is being printed and the B. H. S. is printing it. It's called the 1930 Brainonian.

RICHARD EBERT CALLS
ATTENTION TO ANNUAL

Richard Ebert, Brainonian annual editor, gave a short sales talk in behalf of the annual of 1930 last Tuesday in the assembly. He called attention to the fact that Freshmen and Sophomores have ordered 80 of the year books thus far. More orders are expected from those two classes but the upper classes will no doubt demand a majority of the books. Richard urged that a payment be made immediately lest there be a shortage in the number of annuals printed.

The speaker called attention to the sentimental value of these annuals. He declared that in years to come, no sum of money could be commensurate with the relative importance attached to the year books by the owners.

Donald E. McKay, son of C. D. McKay was a holiday visitor at the home of his parents. He has recently been commissioned as a Lieut. j. g. which means Lieutenant junior grade. He is at present gunning officer on the U. S. S. Downes and has just been sent from Boston to New London.

MAYOR LITTLE
TO BE SPEAKER
AT SOCIAL CLUB

ADDITIONAL ENTERTAINMENT
PLANNED FOR MEETING
THURSDAY

Mayor Frank E. Little will be the principal speaker at the Social Problems club meeting that is to be held the coming Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M.

The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint the students with city government. In addition to this a new type of speldown is being planned in which noted celebrities will take the place of words. To remain in the game the player must correctly identify the person so the members of the club are advised to brush up on their general knowledge of Who's Who.

Thursday evening will be guest night, and each member will be permitted to bring one guest, either an adult or a Senior but no under classmen. Those eligible are: Lucille Bryan, Mildred Gustafson, Evelyn Hoffmann, Lillian Fox, Claude Holden, Onale Lewis, Genevieve Jenkins, Ross Olmsted, Betty Robertson, Mabel Nelson, Selma Nygaard, Hattie Zawadzki, Roland Jenkins, Lorraine Enemark, Howard Aspholm, Wilford Aspholm, Otto Dahl, Rose Gudmundsen, John Hoffbauer, Ingeborg Johnson, Gladys Little, Roger Kleven, Martin Olson, Weston Schobe, Eleonore Schley, Mildred Vanderwerker, Edith Peterson, Fred Weideman, Alice Lind, Richard Ebert, Adolf Erickson, Edith Frost, Evelyn Grimstad, Arthur Hautala, Clarence Holden, Roger Calahan, Hilda Dybvick, Gerald Falkenreck, Wallace Anderson, Ober Benson, Lois Gerrard, Carroll Guin, Virginia Cook, Arthur LeMire, Sylvia Swanson, Leslie Swanson, Frank Ylunen, Margaret Meyers, Ruth Anderson, Elwood Anderson, Almira Christianson, Ethel Kugel, Yelda Magnusson, Ardelle Persson, Hazel Persson, Lillian Turner, Zane Smith.

HI-Y CLUB FEATURES
RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION

Another one of those delicious suppers for which the Hi-Y's fame is great was given Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. But, of course, suppers are not the important matters of the club. The boys realized that Miss Tornstrom is not the only person who gives announcements as Mr. Peterson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. took the stand at the meeting and gave his share. Very few business matters were acted upon, and then the subject of the evening was brought forward. The group entered into a rather lengthy discussion with Mr. Peterson and Mr. Penrose of the high school faculty on religious questions. All the boys gave their opinions and arguments pro and con on various matters. Some of the questions were as follows: "What is a Christian?" "Opinion of Evangelism." "Who was Mohammed?" "Who was Confucius?" "Part ceremony plays in a church." "Importance of baptism." These questions aroused everyone to enter in the discussion. The prize of the evening went to Mr. Penrose who thoroughly convinced the Hi-Y of his lecturing ability on historical subjects. He gave a very vivid description of Moham-medanism and the territory in which it holds sway. The explanation of Mohammed's crescent proved of much interest. Elwood Anderson and Richard Ebert were appointed to find material on next week's topic: "Contributions of the Dark Ages to Christianity."

The Hi-Y is looking forward to the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. clubs at which the club will serve. This will take place January 29.

TROTTERS PLAY HERE, WARDS AT ST. CLOUD WEDNESDAY

AITKIN COMES TO WASHINGTON HIGH FOR HOME CLASH

INDEPENDENT TEAMS HOPE TO HANG UP TWO VICTORIES FOR CITY ON SAME NIGHT

CO. B QUINT COMING HERE IN AN ATTEMPT TO EVEN UP AFTER LOSING TO TROTTERS

Two Brainerd independent teams will play Wednesday evening and although both competitions will be stiff the locals are predicted to win.

While Russell's Globe Trotters are playing the Co. B squad of Aitkin on the Washington high school gym, the Ward Five will meet the Co. I squad at St. Cloud.

The game at Brainerd will mark the first home appearance of Russell's quint. The team is given an edge over Aitkin because of its recent victory.

In the Globe Trotters fans will see many of their favorite former high school stars in action. The team will put on the floor the following men: Wise, Gabiou, Fuller, DeRoche and Paine.

Fred Sanborn will referee the home game.

The evening's basketball program, which will start with a preliminary game now being arranged, will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The following men will make the trip to St. Cloud: W. Heikkinen, Nutting, Marshall, forwards; Marlin, center; Nelson and O. Heikkinen, guards.

ELMER PETERSON MAKES RECORD AT LAKE FOREST

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

Tomorrow night will be a big night for Brainerd's independent basketball teams. The Globe Trotters will entertain the Aitkin Co. B squad while Ward's Brainerd Five will go to St. Cloud to play the fast Co. I team. The Trotters should win but Wards will be in for a tough evening, too tough, maybe!

It's too bad, but we guess we'll have to jump on the St. Cloud Times again today. In the first place they say that the Company I basketball team has a game tomorrow evening with the "Ward Globe Trotters from Brainerd." We have heard of Russell's Globe Trotters and Ward's Brainerd Five. That hadn't ought to be so hard to understand.

The Times reporter also states that the team has played together for two years. Well, well, is that right? He says that Ward's have a perfect record for the season. With one victory and about three defeats, we consider it anything but perfect even though the quint has met some tough opposition. He speaks of the Aitkin guardsmen as one of the best teams north of St. Cloud. Oh, whatta man, whatta man! We suggest that he read up a little more before he writes any more sports stories.

The far should fly Friday night when Brainerd meets Alexandria. Then St. Cloud Tech the next night. Tech plays Little Falls tomorrow night before they meet the Blue and White on Saturday night. It looks like a busy week for both Tech and Brainerd with Brainerd having a little the harder schedule.

Primo Carnera, the walking mountain, will make his American ring debut Friday night at Madison Square Garden against Big Boy Peterson, a product of Minneapolis. Since the bally-hoo about this big foreigner has been so wide-spread, the outcome of the fight will create a lot of interest.

Primero is so tall that should Peterson hang the proper one on his whiskers and should his elongated form topple in the right direction, the walking mountain would be half way home. However, we think Mr. Carnera is a bit too much for the Big Boy.

Bronko Nagurski is now manager and main attraction for an independent cage team of former Minnesota stars. The team will open its schedule Sunday at Foley. It might cost the Globe Trotters or Ward's Brainerd Five a pretty sum to bring that team to Brainerd, but it is almost a safe bet that Bronko's quintet would fill the new Washington high school gym. There are a number of Brainerd basketball fans who would like to see the brand of basketball that the Big "Nag" and his boy friends play.

Nat Holman became the highest salaried professional basketball player in the world yesterday when he signed a contract to play with the Chicago Bruins for $12,000 a year.

Somebody suggested the name of Blue Flyers as a suitable moniker for Brainerd high's athletic teams. What do you think of it? Another suggests calling the boys the Gophers. Still another thinks that Blue and White will continue to suit. What do some of the rest of you think about it. Address "Happy," The Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

The high school cagers will try out some new suits this evening for the first time. The boys will be all dressed up for Little Falls and St. Cloud this week-end!

Coach Kasch will referee the Little Falls-St. Cloud Tech battle tomorrow evening. That should be a pretty good game as Little Falls lost a nine point verdict to Crosby-Ironton the night before the Rangers disposed of Tech by twelve points.

VAN'S AND LIVELYS TAKE TWO APIECE

DEFEAT BRAINERD ELECTRIC AND BYE CLOTHING RESPECTIVELY; ZIEBEL HIGH

Van's Cafe defeated the Brainerd Electric two games at Block's alleys last evening. Ziebell, lead-off for Van's, won scoring honors with a 563 total. A foul and blow in the first game gave the contest to Brainerd Electric, while in the second game, Elde's double won for Van's by two pins' margin. They came back strong in the last game with a 984 game.

Uddenberg made high total for the Brainerd Electric. Engbretson rolled high single game, tying Albert Johnson's 224.

Lively Auto tripped Bye Clothing two games but lost the last game which was close. Albert Johnson tied high score for the evening with a big 612. He cracked out a 223 his first game, then came through with 195 and 193. He is climbing steadily toward a place among the five high average bowlers. Following are the scores:

High averages in the Straightaway League:
Demmers holds down first place in average, 180 plus 32 pins; Van Essen trailing by only 14 pins. Elde, who made the highest total this week of the high bowlers, is in third place with 179 plus 37 pins, 20 pins behind Van. Hagberg holds fourth place honors with 178 plus 36 pins and Block is in fifth place with 178 plus 28 pins. The race for first place is tight as ever, and the places may be changed next week.

GAINS HONORS IN ATHLETICS AT LAKE FOREST, ILL.

ELECTED CAPTAIN FOR 1930 OF THE COLLEGE CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS

PLACES SECOND, THIRD, FOURTH AND SEVENTH IN FOUR COLLEGE MEETS

Monday morning cross country letters were presented in chapel to members of the Lake Forest squad. The men to win their sweaters and monograms were: Captain Joe Hayes, Brimfield, Ill.; Elmer Peterson, Brainerd, and William Hall, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Announcement was also made of the election of Peterson as captain of the 1930 team. Running for his first year on the Gold Coast squad, Peterson proved to be a find. Although not a sensational runner, he was consistent, ranking second only to Hayes, and placing second, third, fourth and seventh in four meets; the seventh was the result of stepping aside to give a team mate the points and a chance to win his letter.

Peterson will lead an experienced team next year, since none of the men will be lost through graduation, and teamed with Hayes, Lake Forest will have the greatest pair of cross country men that have ever worn Gold Coast jerseys.

BAR HEAVYWEIGHT WRESTLING FROM STATE OF ILLINOIS

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—The Illinois boxing commission was scheduled to meet here today to formally bar heavyweight wrestling in the state.

Gen. Jan. V. Clinkin, chairman of the commission, in an address here last night, said the meeting had been called for that purpose.

Treasures Beyond Price

The value of the treasures owned by the American Philosophical society cannot be estimated in dollars. It is said that 78 per cent of the Franklin manuscripts are in possession of this society. Among its other possessions which cannot be duplicated are a Gilbert Stuart portrait of Washington, Benjamin Franklin's stepladder chair, and Jefferson's chair in which he penned the Declaration of Independence.

Ponce de Leon Myth?

There is little in the original narrative concerning Ponce de Leon to substantiate the legend that the traveler was moved to go adventuring in search of a fountain of perpetual youth.

IOWA'S NEXT PLEA FOR REINSTATEMENT MAY BE GRANTED

Detroit, Jan. 21.—(U.P.)—That Iowa's next plea for reinstatement in the Western conference will be granted was predicted here today following the annual report of Chairman Ralph W. Aigler to the University of Michigan athletic committee yesterday.

In the report Aigler said "every member of the Western conference anxiously awaits the time when the Iowa house-cleaning is completed and the university may be welcomed to a fully participating membership."

He pointed out the Hawkeye institution had done much to put its athletic house in order, including the abolition of three funds raised to help defray expenses of athletes through school.

Unchanging Britons

At the town of Lyme Regis, in England, the town crier still daily reads the proclamation beginning: "Whereas Charles Stuart, son of the late tyrant, with divers of the English and Scotch nation, have been defeated . . . and goes on to warn the populace against harboring this Charles, who died in 1680. This bulging tenacity of the British is what always enables them to win out in the end.—Detroit News

SHIFTING "THE NOBLE EXPERIMENT"

"STORM-TOSSED"

BY HELEN SCHERMERHORN YOUNG

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.

ENID MONROE is loved by Dick Grant and Ned Grier. Both young men work for the same oil company. Dick is sent to Shanghai. Ned wins Enid by telling her that Dick is carrying on an affair with an Oriental woman. When Dick returns, he learns that Enid and Ned are soon to be married. He acts as best man at the wedding, after which he leaves for the Coast. Next Summer his company sends him to a mountain resort, where Ned and Enid are vacationing with Enid's brother. Dick's love for Enid grows. Enid resents the affection of Genevieve Long, another member of the party, for Dick. That Fall, Enid counts the days until Dick arrives in New York.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER XXII.
HOW she and Dick became separated from Ned and Genevieve Enid never could remember. The crowd was so tremendous it was frightening. Her coat almost torn off, there in that passage as they were leaving the Bowl. But Dick was by her. He held her arm tightly, bracing himself and keeping the crowd from crushing her.

Then it became terrifying—she trembled and drew closer to Dick. A rush started behind them—some silly students. Oh—this was terrible. Then suddenly both of Dick's arms were around her—protecting her—holding her close. Her head swam. Dizzy. Her breath almost left her. She looked up into Dick's face. Their eyes held each other for a moment—there was no crowd—no one was even near them. There was no one else in the world. They were alone—close, hearts beating together, throbbing with every wild beat for love of each other.

From that moment Dick and Enid dared not look at each other. Not a word was spoken by either to suggest that such a moment of complete understanding and acknowledgment had passed between them.

Even during the rest of Dick's visit in New York, although they were thrown much together, their eyes never met for one single moment.

It was as if they had made a pact to defy this thing which had come to them and of which they were entirely conscious, and to help each other in preventing the occurrence of a situation in which they would be caught again in the flame.

Enid became more tender with Ned, and many nights when she at last fell asleep by his side her cheeks were moist with silent tears which she could not hold back.

Good-bye again. "See you next Summer, old man. Good-bye, Enid—good-bye—"

Often a year passes before we realize it, but this year was intolerable to Dick. All during the Fall, Winter and Spring he battled with himself, deciding firmly that he would not go to Serana the next Summer. But when Summer came bringing Enid and Dick with it, all of his determination fled. He loved Enid—always had and always would. But lots of men go through life loving a woman they can't marry and seem to get some happiness out of life. He'd do it. By God, he wasn't a weakling.

Oh, yes—it was better now. He had himself completely in hand when he walked fearlessly to the train to meet his old friends on their arrival in San Francisco.

"No reason at all why I can't go down to Serana with you," replied Dick enthusiastically in response to Ned's question. "Great," said Ned. "And make funny-looking socks. Dick would think she was an awful tenderfoot even after her Summer West.

Dick was in the doorway, with the red light of the afterglow of a California sunset behind him.

"I hate to be such a bother, Dick, but I simply can't move these boots. We haven't a boot-jack—Ned always takes them off for me."

Enid leaned back in the armchair and lifted her right foot. With one expert twist of Dick's strong hands the boot was off, and she stretched out her tired leg with relief.

"Now the other." That black lock of Dick's fell almost in his eyes as he bent over the boot.

Two silken feet close—slim beautiful feet—Enid's dear little feet. He couldn't help it. He was on his knees—those adorable feet in his big strong hands. Closely he held them and then kissed one, and then the other. For a moment his face burned against them.

Enid lay back in her chair—her eyes closed. He was hurrying through the door.

The big gong for dinner rang before she opened her eyes again.

The days that followed—the thrilling days—the fearful days—trying so hard not to look into Dick's eyes and always sitting away from him. Keeping close to Ned on the rides, and in walking from one cabin to the other always holding tightly to his arm, staying very close to Ned as a timid child keeps close to her mother.

Then one morning Ned was called to the telephone and came back saying to Enid:

"Have to run down to Los Angeles, dear. McNair wants to see me tomorrow morning."

Ned leaving her! Why did McNair have to see him just now when she wanted to be so close to him—when she needed him so?

"How long will you be gone, Neddie?" asked Enid, frightened even to hear the answer.

"No way of telling, Enid, but my guess would be only for a few days." He put his arm around her. She nestled against his breast. He held her close for a minute.

She would have to sleep in that cabin all alone, with those woodrats making such a noise on the roof. It was all right when Ned was there and he laughed when she weakened suddenly and sat bolt upright in bed. And suppose the big bear came prowling around as he had done, and the deer crashing through the brush! And what was that deep fear, which was way down in her heart as if it were buried away? Oh, why did Ned have to go away?

"Dick will look after you, darling, and you will be so busy and have such a good time that you won't miss me. I'll beat it back as soon as I possibly can," he said as he kissed her and then went on with his packing. "Don't look so sad, Enid, dear."

Enid quickly turned to help Ned with his bag, and when she kissed him good-bye her heart was as heavy as if he had been leaving her never to return. Ned—Ned! What was this feeling of dread hovering over her like some illomened bird, flapping its wings and making her cringe and cower? "Take care of Enid, old man," Ned said to Dick—and he was off.

The Engineer's Lament

I know an engineer grizzled and gray
Who has pulled fast trains for many a day
He's of the old school, ready to serve,
Whom none can accuse of a lack of nerve.

Old John and I one day sat talking
When he said, "Now mind you, I'm not squawking
But most of my hair has turned to gray
Since the fool auto has come into play."

"There's not a day passes when I'm on a trip,
Hitting her up at a sixty mile clip
But some fool driver, with a grin on his face,
Comes along and tries to set a new pace."

"No matter what shape the road is in,
He'll look at me, wave his hand and grin
Then open her up, step on accelerator
Much as to say, 'I'll see you later.'"

"The car goes bouncing uphill and down dell
You'd think that the driver was headed for hell
Now mind you, I'm not squawking I say
But I wish the darned things'd keep out of my way."

"The road makes a turn and crosses the track
But the fool driver don't try to look back,
He reaches the track right under our nose,
And I hold my breath as by he goes."

"I look at my fireman then to see
If we've knocked the car to Eternity
He waves his hand, or gives me a nod
And I breathe again the prayer 'Thank God.'"

"They'll come racing right up to the track
Then put on the brakes and stop three foot back
Now I ask my friend, 'What would you do
If they pulled such a darn fool stunt on you?'"

"Each trip o'er the road is filled with thrills
Till each 'proaching auto my heart fairly chills
An' just why it is, I can't understand,
They all crave so for the Promised Land."

"They seem to ignore both whistle and bell
They seem to tell me to 'Go plumb to Hell!'
But I do wish they'd take a little more care,
Now don't you think it would only be fair?"

—GEO. W. AMES.

POLLY MORAN, MARIE DRESSLER and UKELELE IKE in "THE HOLLYWOOD REVUE"

The greatest cast of names ever assembled for one picture is to be seen and heard in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking, singing and dancing extravaganza, "The Hollywood Revue," easily the most entertaining and gayest production of its kind yet to come to the audible screen.

Produced on a lavish scale, featuring tuneful song hits, many beautiful scenes photographed in natural color, hundreds of dancing and singing girls and many unusually interesting camera innovations, this latest musical revue, moves along at a rapid pace replete with some of the gayest and most delightful moments seen and heard in the theatre since the advent of the audible screen.

"The Hollywood Revue" was directed by Charles F. Reisner, with dances and ensembles arranged by Sammy Lee, the well-known musical comedy director. "The Hollywood Revue," will be shown at the Paramount to-night and Wednesday.

"No, but you treated my dear deceased uncle and I am his inheritor."

Still More Millions Treat Colds Direct

Round-About Method of "Dosing" Gives Way To Modern Vaporizing Salve

More and more people each year are giving up the slow, indirect way of treating colds by "dosing" with internal medicines, and are adopting the modern direct treatment—Vicks VapoRub.

Vicks goes direct to the affected parts and checks the cold in two ways—its medicated vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air passages; at the same time it acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness.

Vicks is especially appreciated by mothers because it is just rubbed on, and therefore, cannot upset children's delicate stomachs as "dosing" is so apt to do. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

To keep pace with the ever-growing demand, the famous slogan, "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. This figure too has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a jar for every family in the United States.

Who Makes Your Fire Insurance Rate?

Trained experts compute it; but property owners—individually and collectively—create the conditions which determine the cost of their fire insurance.

Several major factors enter into the determination of fire insurance rates, such as structure, occupancy, the quality of private and public fire protection, exposure from other property and general loss experience.

Surveys Available
The agent who writes your insurance—or your broker—or you, yourself—can obtain an itemized explanation of how your insurance rate is computed. There is nothing secret about it.

The Stock Fire Insurance companies solicit your interest, and offer free of charge the advice of rate-making bureaus to assist in eliminating hazards or correcting defects which may result in lowering your rate.

Seek Counsel
Do not attempt unsound fire prevention measures, but seek the counsel of the accredited experts of rating bureaus who are anxious to tell you the proper way to make improvements.

Insurance companies generally prefer risks eligible to a low rate to those which carry higher ones. A low rate indicates better conditions, better maintenance and less chance of fire.

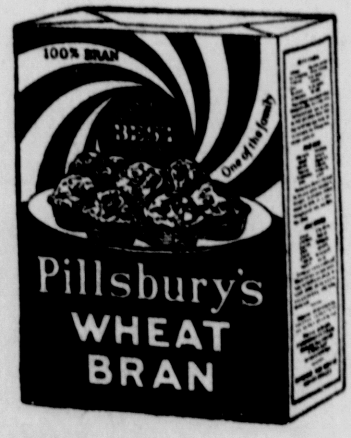

While the National Board of Fire Underwriters has nothing to do with rates or rate-making, as a bureau of standards it does publish information which rate-makers use to measure the comparative strength and usefulness of materials and devices.

In Minnesota fire insurance rates are computed by the General Inspection Bureau, with offices at Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Paul and Winona.

POLLY MORAN, MARIE DRESSLER and UKELELE IKE in "THE HOLLYWOOD REVUE"

The greatest cast of names ever assembled for one picture is to be seen and heard in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking, singing and dancing extravaganza, "The Hollywood Revue," easily the most entertaining and gayest production of its kind yet to come to the audible screen.

Produced on a lavish scale, featuring tuneful song hits, many beautiful scenes photographed in natural color, hundreds of dancing and singing girls and many unusually interesting camera innovations, this latest musical revue, moves along at a rapid pace replete with some of the gayest and most delightful moments seen and heard in the theatre since the advent of the audible screen.

"The Hollywood Revue" was directed by Charles F. Reisner, with dances and ensembles arranged by Sammy Lee, the well-known musical comedy director. "The Hollywood Revue," will be shown at the Paramount tonight and Wednesday.

Confession

I always lose an argument
 But when I get to bed
 I think of all the clever things
 I might as well have said.

Cause for Thankfulness

"Personally I've derived much benefit from your activities, doctor."
 "Is that so? I don't recollect having had you as a patient."
 "No, but you treated my dear deceased uncle and I am his inheritor."

Still More Millions
 Treat Colds Direct

Round-About Method of "Dosing" Gives Way To Modern Vaporizing Salve

More and more people each year are giving up the slow, indirect way of treating colds by "dosing" with internal medicines, and are adopting the modern direct treatment—Vicks VapoRub.

Vicks goes direct to the affected parts and checks the cold in two ways—its medicated vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages; at the same time it acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness.

Vicks is especially appreciated by mothers because it is just rubbed on, and therefore, cannot upset children's delicate stomachs as "dosing" is so apt to do. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

To keep pace with the ever-growing demand, the famous slogan, "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. This figure too has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a jar for every family in the United States.

Who Makes Your Fire Insurance Rate?

Trained experts compute it; but property owners—individually and collectively—create the conditions which determine the cost of their fire insurance.

Several major factors enter into the determination of fire insurance rates, such as structure, occupancy, the quality of private and public fire protection, exposure from other property and general loss experience.

Surveys Available

The agent who writes your insurance—or your broker—or you, yourself—can obtain an itemized explanation of how your insurance rate is computed. There is nothing secret about it.

The Stock Fire Insurance companies solicit your interest, and offer free of charge the advice of rate-making bureaus to assist in eliminating hazards or correcting defects which may result in lowering your rate.

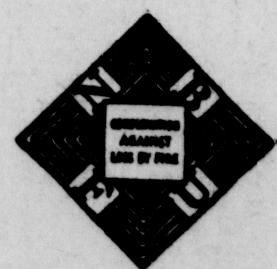

Seek Counsel

Do not attempt unsound fire prevention measures, but seek the counsel of the accredited experts of rating bureaus who are anxious to tell you the proper way to make improvements.

Insurance companies generally prefer risks eligible to a low rate to those which carry higher ones. A low rate indicates better conditions, better maintenance and less chance of fire.

While the National Board of Fire Underwriters has nothing to do with rates or rate-making, as a bureau of standards it does publish information which rate-makers use to measure the comparative strength and usefulness of materials and devices.

In Minnesota fire insurance rates are computed by the General Inspection Bureau, with offices at Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Paul and Winona.

WOULD EMPOWER CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Body of Three Would Have Power to Appoint and Discharge Police,
Firemen on Salary

FOUR ORDINANCES CONSIDERED

Would Regulate Theatre Construction,
No Parking and Use of Paper
Streamers at Dances

Four ordinances were given their first readings at last evening's council meeting. Before they become effective they must be given two more readings, one at each meeting or the council may rule to have the second and third readings at one meeting.

The ordinances pertain to:
The establishment of a Civil Service Commission of three to act as a judiciary board in the employment and discharge of salaried officers of the police and fire departments upon examination and hearings thus removing the power from the mayor and city council and placing the departments free from political influences.

Designation of yellow sidewalk markings and no parking signs as official no parking zones.

Regulations in the construction of theatres to conform with requirements in safety, ventilation and appearance and the submission of specifications to the building inspector for his approval before permits for building are granted by the city council.

Restriction in the use and throwing of confetti and paper streamers at public dance halls for the elimination of fire danger.

Members of the Civil Service Commission would be appointed by the city council. They will be required to hold no other public office and their services shall be given without pay with the exception of the secretary, one of the members, who may receive remuneration for his work not to exceed $100 a year. The ordinance would give the council power to appoint the three members, one for three years, another for two and the third for one year at the first appointment. Then the council would appoint each year one commissioner for three years as the vacancies occur.

This ordinance was drafted by City Attorney D. H. Fullerton and modeled after the ones in use in the Twin Cities and Duluth.

The Civil Service Commission would have full power in the employment of members in the police and fire departments. Each applicant will be required to pass examinations. In the case of officers neglecting their duties the commission will investigate the charges and will have power to discharge the offender only after a hearing.

The matter of correcting the condition as exists at the front of the Lyceum theatre where a large sign board has been placed and which was referred to by Alderman W. J. Hall as a blackeye to the city was referred to the city attorney and Mayor Frank E. Little to take up with the local manager of Public theatres.

Andy Smarker, poolroom proprietor on Laurel street was given until February 1 to improve conditions at the poolroom. In the event that the conditions are not remedied the place will be closed, the council ordered. Improvements ordered by the council at its previous meeting included the removal of the iron railings in front of the building and a general interior cleaning. Renewal of the poolhall license will not be granted until the improvements are made.

The fire, light and water committee was instructed to take up the matter of lights and the improvement of the water fountain in the city hall with the Water and Light Department.

On motion of Aldermen V. F. Anderson and Frank J. Johnson, $800 was transferred from the general fund to the contingent fund.

Adoption of an inside left turn at street intersections as advocated by Alderman Hall was left on the table to await the conclusion of the test given it by Minneapolis.

Mayor Little stated that Minneapolis was not altogether satisfied with the inside left turn since it was found to increase accidents although it had the desired effect of speeding up traffic.

Since Minneapolis will give the inside left turn an additional test of 90 days before ruling on it the council decided to await the result of this. It was felt that if Brainerd adopted the inside left turn and Minneapolis rejected it confusion would arise in the tourist traffic here.

The report of receipts and disbursements for city of Brainerd for December, was presented by Mrs. E. T. Fleener, city clerk, accepted and placed on file.

APPEAR AT ELKS TEMPLE

Ladies in Group Are Past Masters of Harp; All Achieve Fine Reputations

Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Elks Temple the Brainerd Musical club will present another of its pleasing programs, in the appearance of the Lawrence Harp Quintette.

The Lawrence Harp Quintette of five members present Miss Lucile Lawrence, the organizer of the quintette, Marietta Bitter, Grace Weymer, Thurema Sokol and Eleanor Shaffner. Miss Lucile Lawrence, founder-director, is very well known, and was selected soloist at the annual National Harp Festival in Philadelphia. She has toured extensively in Australia and New Zealand. She is of a charming personality and of unusual ability.

Marietta Bitter is well known especially in New York and Vienna, Austria where she has appeared in recitals. Grace Weymer is a teacher of the harp at the College of Fine Arts, Syracuse university, Syracuse, New York; Thurema Sokol began her career in Mexico City, Mexico and is now teacher of the harp at the Walton school, while Eleanor Shaffner is a teacher of the harp at Salem college, North Carolina.

Marked interest in the harp has been shown in the last few years, and the harp has made a wonderful advance as a virtuosos instrument. The program given by the Lawrence Harp Quintette is varied. It will contain dance tunes handled in an artistic manner, dance themes, opera, classic and folk tunes and popular numbers of various countries including America, Ireland, France and Russia.

BRAINERD DERIVES TIDY SUM FROM OIL STATION LICENSES

Brainerd derives approximately $2500 each year from oil pump licenses.

At last evening's council meeting renewals of pump licenses totalling $1250, the renewals costing $25 each.

"And that is only approximately one-half the number granted each year," Mrs. E. T. Fleener, city clerk, said.

The remaining licenses are in the majority renewed in July.

A STATEMENT OF OLDSMOBILE-VIKING POLICY for 1930

A message of interest to everyone who expects to buy a car this year.

AT THIS TIME, when the public is accustomed to look for changes in motor car design, it is only natural that Olds Motor Works should make an announcement concerning both its policy and its products for the coming year.

Olds Motor Works is pledged to a policy of progress—a policy that promises, in part . . . "Changes in design solely for the sake of progress—never for the sake of change alone."

This policy, as it applies to the two products of Olds Motor Works, is briefly . . .

. . . to give still greater value in the Oldsmobile Six, the Fine Car of Low Price . . .

. . . to provide, in the Viking, a modern 90-degree, V-type Eight of high quality, at medium price.

Certain changes have been made in Oldsmobile design. These changes are chiefly in the body of the car, although advancements have also been made in the chassis. In every case, the changes tend to add to Oldsmobile value, without affecting its fundamental design.

Naturally, no changes have been made in the great Viking Eight. The Viking is a new car—a thoroughly modern 90-degree V-type Eight, incorporating advancements in V-eight design that establish it as one of the outstanding engineering achievements of recent years.

Olds Motor Works is pledged in both Oldsmobile and Viking to four great responsibilities: to design progressively—to build faithfully—to sell honestly—to service sincerely.

Thus, while Olds Motor Works builds two cars, in two major price classes, each represents the most progressive engineering thought, the finest manufacturing practice, and the best value it is possible to give at the price.

Now is the time to see these cars . . . to compare them with the latest offerings of the industry . . . and to make your own decision on value.

A STATEMENT OF OLDSMOBILE-VIKING POLICY for 1930

A message of interest to everyone who expects to buy a car this year.

AT THIS TIME, when the public is accustomed to look for changes in motor car design, it is only natural that Olds Motor Works should make an announcement concerning both its policy and its products for the coming year.

Olds Motor Works is pledged to a policy of progress—a policy that promises, in part . . . "Changes in design solely for the sake of progress—never for the sake of change alone."

This policy, as it applies to the two products of Olds Motor Works, is briefly . . .

. . . to give still greater value in the Oldsmobile Six, the Fine Car of Low Price . . .

. . . to provide, in the Viking, a modern 90-degree, V-type Eight of high quality, at medium price.

Certain changes have been made in Oldsmobile design. These changes are chiefly in the body of the car, although advancements have also been made in the chassis. In every case, the changes tend to add to Oldsmobile value, without affecting its fundamental design.

Naturally, no changes have been made in the great Viking Eight. The Viking is a new car—a thoroughly modern 90-degree V-type Eight, incorporating advancements in V-eight design that establish it as one of the outstanding engineering achievements of recent years.

Olds Motor Works is pledged in both Oldsmobile and Viking to four great responsibilities: to design progressively—to build faithfully—to sell honestly—to service sincerely.

Thus, while Olds Motor Works builds two cars, in two major price classes, each represents the most progressive engineering thought, the finest manufacturing practice, and the best value it is possible to give at the price.

Now is the time to see these cars . . . to compare them with the latest offerings of the industry . . . and to make your own decision on value.

HE COULDN'T SAY

A woman remarked to a well-known bishop on one occasion, "Oh! Bishop, I want to tell you something very remarkable. An aunt of mine had arranged to make a voyage in a certain steamer, but at the last moment she had to give up the trip; and that steamer was wrecked; wasn't it a mercy she didn't go?"

Calling a Spade a Spade. "Who giveth this woman to this man?" asked the parson. "I'm supposed to be here for that purpose," growled the bride's hard-bodded dad, "but what I'm really doing is getting a son-in-law to support instead of giving her away to be supported."

House Cleaner Came First. "I should have thought," he said grumpily, "that as this is my birthday, you would consider my wishes and have lemon pudding." "I'm sorry, dear," replied his wife, "but your birthday falls on the day we have the house cleaner, and she prefers tapioca."

Needs a Rabbit's Foot. "Are you one of Lady Luck's favorites?" "No, I'm the kind of guy who, if he is looking for a good listener, gets cornered by a good talker."

Or Two Coconuts. "That's the story in a nutshell," said Councilman Bilthers after talking for better than two hours in the town hall the other night. Maybe he meant a coconut shell.—Farm and Fireside.

Quick Relief for Coughing Spells

Famous Prescription Stops Them Almost Instantly. The phenomenal success of a doctor's famous prescription called Thoxine is due to its double action. It immediately soothes the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by patent medicines and cough syrups. The very first swallow usually stops even the most obstinate cough.
